Acknowledgements

We would like to thank all those who helped to produce this book. In particular, the input of Ghinwa Mamari of the School of Oriental and African Studies (London University) was invaluable in making the structure of the units more coherent and the trickier grammar points more precise.

Thank you also to Hala Yehia, lecturer in Arabic at the American University in Cairo, for reading the proofs and to Helen Bugler and Isobel Munday at Palgrave Macmillan for their enthusiasm and professionalism.

Introduction

What is Arabic 'grammar'?

Arabic 'grammar' will mean different things to different people.

To learners of Arabic as a foreign language it might mean the fundamentals of the language: whether there are genders, whether the noun or the adjective comes first, how the verb changes in the past and future, etc.

To more advanced Arabists and scholars it might mean the higher-level subtleties of Modern Standard or Classical Arabic.

To native speakers, it usually conjures up a subject studied at school, often hazily remembered lessons analysing sentences with a view to being able to spell and pronounce formal Arabic correctly.

What this book means by 'grammar' is a progressive knowledge of the structure of Arabic from the basic building blocks to some, but by no means all, of the more subtle nuances of Modern Standard Arabic.

Levels of formality

Learners of Arabic generally appreciate the difference between the various spoken Arabic dialects and the universal Modern Standard Arabic. What is not so well understood is that Modern Standard itself can be spoken and written at different levels of sophistication.

Although most Arabs can communicate in a form of standard Arabic and are aware that formal Arabic is pronounced with additional case endings, only scholars, media presenters and public speakers use these endings routinely.

This book includes Case Notes sections with additional explanations and activities covering the grammatical case endings used in formal, literary and religious Arabic. These grammatical cases are similar to those found in languages such as German or Russian, but in Arabic are not usually pronounced in less formal contexts. You can use the book without reference to the Case Notes if you wish initially to acquire a more general understanding. Alternatively, you can study the Case Notes sections if you have an interest in this aspect of Arabic grammar and want to learn about it from the beginning.

How to use this book

This is a reference and activity book for all beginners and early intermediate students of Arabic, whether studying in a group or by themselves. The book can also be used independently to improve understanding of the basics of grammar or to gain an overview of the structure of the Arabic language.

The book has a built-in progression. Explanations and activities draw only on structures already covered in previous units. Work your way through the units and measure your progress step by step. Alternatively, if you are already studying Arabic you can use the relevant part of the book for extra practice on a particular point of grammar.

The main part of the book is divided into 20 units, each concentrating on an aspect of Arabic grammar. The units feature:

- clear structural explanations
- more than 100 stimulating activities to practise particular grammar points
- optional Case Notes explaining formal case endings (see above)
- end-of-unit In Summary, highlighting the most important points of the unit for easy reference.

Answers to all the activities are also included in the final section of the book.

Arabic script

It is beneficial to acquire familiarity with the Arabic script and the short vowel marks before studying this book. However, the complete alphabet is provided here for reference.

كسرة kasra	a dash below, pronounced as a short 'i' after the letter, e.g. ...بـ bi
سكون sukūn	a small circle above showing that no vowel follows the letter, e.g. بنت bint (girl)
شدة shadda	a small 'w' shape above showing that the letter is doubled , e.g. بُن bunn (coffee beans)
مدّة madda	a wavy symbol written over an alif and pronounced ā, e.g. آنسة ānisa (young woman)

(Note: These symbols are not generally included in modern written Arabic. This book uses them where necessary for clarity.)

Fundamentals of Arabic grammar

The Arabic root system

Arabic is a language based on a system of 'roots'. In English, we often refer to the 'root' of a word to mean its origin, for example the root of the English word 'engineer' is the Latin ingenium, meaning 'skill'.

The Arabic root, or مصدر maṣḍar, refers to the core meaning of a word. This core can usually be identified by three root consonants (non-vowels). For example, the sequence of three consonants س/ف/ر s/f/r (in this order, reading the Arabic script right to left) carries the meaning of 'travel'. A word which includes the sequence of letter س/ف/ر s/f/r is likely to have something to do with travelling. For example:

journey	سَفَر safar
he travels	يُسَافِر yusāfir ambassador	سَفِير safīr
traveller	مُسَافِر musāfir
embassy	سِفَارَة sifāra

All these words are derived from the root س/ف/ر s/f/r. Notice how the root letters always appear in the same order. Any additional consonants or vowels before, after or between the root letters modify the meaning according to different general patterns. The feminine ending ة (tā' marbūṭa) is never part of the root and the most common additional consonants are م m, ت t and س s.

The emphasis on root consonants means that vowels, especially short vowels, are of secondary importance. The pronunciation often varies between Modern Standard Arabic and spoken dialects. For example, يكتب ('he writes') would be pronounced yaktub in Modern Standard, but could be yuktub or yiktib in dialect. The meaning is generally conveyed by the consonants rather than the vowels.

Much of Arabic grammar is concerned with how the root is manipulated to create different related meanings. As you become more familiar with the patterns and structures, you will be more able to identify the roots and to manipulate them yourself.

Activity 1

Can you identify the three root letters in each of the following sets of words? What do you think the general core meaning could be?

1	book	كِتَاب kitāb office	مَكْتَب maktab writer/clerk	كَاتِب kātib library	مَكْتَبَة maktaba
2	lesson	دَرَس dars teacher	مُدَرِّس mudarris study	دِرَاسَة dirāsa school	مَدْرَسَة madrasa

3	broken	مكسور maksūr
	fragmentation	تكسير taksīr
	it was broken	انكسر inkasar
	nut cracker	كسارة kassāra
4	player	لاعب lāʿib
	playing field	ملعب malʿab
	toy	لعبة luʿba
	games	ألعاب alʿāb

Words with doubled root letter

Some Arabic words have the same second and third root letters. When this is the case, they are sometimes written together with a shadda doubling sign (ّ) and sometimes separately, depending on the type of word:

جديد jadīd (new) = root letters ج/د/د j/d/d

كل kull (all) = root letters ك/ل/ل k/l/l

Words with four root letters

A few Arabic words have four root letters. Sometimes these are four different letters, for example ترجمة tarjama (translation), where the root letters are ت/ر/ج/م t/r/j/m, but often they are a repeated pair, for example زلزال zalzāl (earthquake), where the root letters are ز/ل/ز/ل z/l/z/l.

Words of foreign origin

Generally loan words such as راديو rādyū (radio) or انترنت intarnat (internet) fall outside the Arabic root system.

In summary

- Most Arabic words have a sequence of three root consonants which is connected with a particular core meaning.
- Vowels and consonants are added around the root to create related words and structures.
- The most common additional consonants are م m, س s and ت t.
- Some words have the same second and third root consonants and a few have four root consonants.
- Roots are the building blocks of the Arabic language and are helpful for guessing the meaning of vocabulary.

Gender: masculine and feminine

Arabic nouns (words that name people, objects or ideas) are either masculine مُذَكَّر (mudhakkar) or feminine مُؤنَّث (mu'annath).

chair (masculine) كُرْسِي kursī

table (feminine) مَائِدَة mā'ida

It is not difficult to tell the difference between masculine and feminine words. Feminine words usually fall into one of two categories:

1 Words with the feminine ending ā a (tā' marbūṭa), for example:

car سَيَّارَة sayyāra

bag حَقِيبَة ḥaqība

aunt (maternal) خَالَة khāla nurse (female) مُمَرِّضَة mumarriḍa

2 Words referring to female people but not ending in ā a, for example:

girl بِنْت bint

mother أُم umm

Gender: masculine and feminine

In addition, there are a small number of words which are feminine and don't fit into either of the two feminine categories. Most of these are names of countries, natural features or parts of the body that come in pairs, for example:

leg	رجل rijl
sun	شَمْس shams
desert	صَحْرَاء ṣaḥrā'
Egypt	مِصْر miṣr

Activity 1

Decide if these words are مُذَكَّر mudhakkar or مُؤنَّث mu'annath and tick the correct box, as in the example:

			مُذَكَّر	مُؤنَّث
1	كِتَاب kitāb	book	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2	أَخْت ukht	sister	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3	بَيْت bayt	house	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4	قَمِيص qamīṣ	shirt	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5	دَجَاجَة dajāja	chicken	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
6	أَب ab	father	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
7	وَلَد walad	boy	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
8	العِرَاق al-irāq	Iraq	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
9	شَارِع shāriʿ	street	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
10	صُورَة ṣūra	picture	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
11	عَيْن ayn	eye	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
12	اجْتِمَاع ijtimāʿ	meeting	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Case Notes

Arabic has different levels of formality and complexity. In certain contexts, particularly Quranic or Classical Arabic but also sometimes in more formal Standard Arabic, you will see and hear additional grammatical endings. These endings represent the case of the noun (nominative, accusative or genitive) and whether it is definite or indefinite. The endings change depending on the function of the noun in a sentence.

Isolated nouns are usually shown with the neutral تنوين (tanwīn) ending showing they are indefinite ('a/an'). تنوين (tanwīn) literally means 'putting a nūn on' and for this reason is sometimes called nunation. It is written as a small symbol above the final letter (ـٍ) and pronounced un:

a boy ولدٌ waladun

a girl بنتٌ bintun

If a noun ends in ة (tā' marbūṭa), the t is pronounced before the تنوين (tanwīn):

a car سَيَّارَةٌ sayyāratun

a nurse ممرضةٌ mumarrīḍatun

تنوين (tanwīn) is not normally added to foreign loan words such as كمبيوتر kumbyūtir (computer).

Optional Activity

Put the تنوين (tanwīn) on these nouns and say them out loud.

1 قميص 4 صورة

2 دجاجة 5 سَيَّارَة

3 بيت 6 عين

In summary

- Arabic has two genders: masculine and feminine.
- Most feminine nouns end in ة (tā' marbūṭa) or, if not, they refer to female people, e.g. بنت (bint).
- Other nouns are generally masculine.
- In more formal Standard and Classical Arabic additional grammatical endings may be seen and heard on Arabic nouns.

3 الـ al- (the)

Arabic has no separate word for 'a' or 'an', as in 'a chair' or 'an apple'. So كِتَاب (kitāb) means 'a book', مَكْتَب (maktab) 'an office', etc.

To make a noun definite ('the book', 'the office', etc.), you need to add الـ (al-) meaning 'the'. الـ (al-) is written joined to the word it refers to and is the same for both masculine and feminine:

وَلَد walad (a boy) → الولد al-walad (the boy)

بِنْت bint (a girl) → البنت al-bint (the girl)

قَمِيص qamīṣ (a shirt) → القميص al-qamīṣ (the shirt)

حَقِيْبَة ḥaqība (a bag) → الحقيبة al-ḥaqība (the bag)

Sun letters الحروف الشمسية and moon letters الحروف القمرية

Nouns starting with certain letters of the Arabic alphabet cause the pronunciation of الـ (al-) to change. The 'l' is assimilated and instead the initial letter of the noun is pronounced twice – and written with a shadda (ّ) if the vowel marks are included:

سَيَّارَة sayyāra (a car) → السَّيَّارَة as-sayyāra (the car)

نَهْر nahr (a river) → النَّهْر an-nahr (the river)

الـ al- (the)

The letters which cause this pronunciation assimilation are called 'sun letters', الحروف الشمسية (al-ḥurūf ash-shamsiyya), as ش (shīn) is itself an assimilating letter. Note that only the pronunciation is affected by sun letters. The spelling of الـ (al-) doesn't change. Half the 28 letters of the alphabet are sun letters.

The remainder of the letters are called الحروف القمرية (al-ḥurūf al-qamriyya), as ق (qāf) is not an assimilating letter.

الحروف الشمسية (sun letters):

ت ث د ذ ر ز س ش ص ض ط ظ ل ن

الحروف القمرية (moon letters):

ا ب ج ح خ ع غ ف ق ك م ه و ي

Activity 1

Write these nouns with the article الـ (al-) and then say them out loud, as in the examples.

كرسي الكرسي (al-kursī)

سرير السرير (as-sarīr)

مفتاح

دجاجة

قَلَم

3

بَيْت

4

صُورَة

5

مَمْرُضَة

تِين

7

خَيْمَة

8

Elision

If ال (al-) comes directly after a vowel, the 'a' of ال (al-) will drop out, or elide, leaving just the 'l'. Again, this affects only the pronunciation and not the spelling:

البيت al-bayt
(the house)

في البيت fi l-bayt
(in the house)

المرضة الممرضة al-mumarrida (the nurse) هي الممرضة hiya l-mumarrida (she [is] the nurse)

Case Notes

When a noun is made definite (for example, by adding ال al-), the neutral (nominative) case ending above the final letter becomes a ḍamma (ُ) pronounced -u (-tu if the noun ends in ة):

a boy ولدٌ waladun the boy الولدُ al-waladu

a car سَيَّارَةٌ sayyāratun the car السَيَّارَةُ as-sayyāratu

Optional Activity

Put the definite neutral case ending on the answers you gave for Activity 1 and say the words out loud. For example:

المفتاحُ al-miftāḥu (the key)

In summary

- ال (al-) is the Arabic equivalent of 'the' and is always written joined to the following noun: بيت bayt (house); البيت al-bayt (the house).
- There is no separate word equivalent to 'a/an'.
- Half the letters of the Arabic alphabet assimilate the 'l' of 'al-': التين at-tīn (the figs).
- The 'a' of 'al-' is not pronounced if the previous word ends in a vowel: في البيت fi l-bayt (in the house).

4 Pronouns (singular) and non-verbal sentences

Pronouns are words such as 'I', 'it' or 'you' which replace names or nouns in a sentence.

Arabic has more pronouns than English since it has different versions for masculine and feminine, singular and plural, and even special dual pronouns for two people or things.

Singular pronouns

Here are the singular pronouns.

I	أنا	anā
you (masculine)	أنتَ	anta
you (feminine)	أنتِ	anti he, it (masculine)	هُوَ	huwa
she, it (feminine)	هِيَ	hiya

Activity 1

Cover the pronouns above and then join the Arabic to the English, as in the example.

he, it (masculine)	أنتَ
I	أنا
she, it (feminine)	هُوَ
you (masculine)	هِيَ
you (feminine)	أنتِ

Non-verbal sentences

You can construct non-verbal sentences in Arabic that do not require the equivalent of 'am', 'are' or 'is'. The subject, either a noun or a pronoun, can be followed directly by the rest of the sentence:

I [am] Yasmin. أنا ياسمين.
ana yasmīn.

Yousef [is a] teacher. يوسف مُدَرِّس.
yūsaf mudarris.

My aunt Nadia [is a] nurse. خالتي نادية مُمَرِّضة.
khālatī nādyā mumarriḍa.

The dog [is] in the garden. الكلب في الحديقة.
al-kalb fī l-ḥadīqa.

You [are] Ahmed's father. أنت أبو أحمد.
anta abū aḥmad.

Activity 2

Fill in the gaps, as in the example.

أم سارة.

هي 5

1 أحمد مدرّس.

Activity 3

Write out these sentences again using هو or هي, as in the example.

هو مدرّس. 1 أحمد مدرّس.

ياسمين ممرضة. 2

الكلب في الشارع. 3

السيارة في الشارع. 4

الولد في الحديقة. 5

البنت في السيارة. 6

Case Notes

Look at these non-verbal sentences with the case endings included:

He's a teacher. هو مدرّس. huwa mudarrisun

You're a nurse. أنت ممرضة. anti mumarridatun

The girl is in the house. البنت في البيت. al-bintu fī l-bayti

All of the case endings in italics are neutral, or nominative – -un for indefinite and -u for definite – except البيت where the ending changes to -i after في fī (in). You will learn more about this in Unit 8. For the moment, it is enough to know that the case ending will be nominative unless there is a reason for it not to be.

In summary

- هو huwa means he or it for masculine nouns; هي hiya means she or it for feminine nouns.
- There are masculine and feminine forms of 'you': أنت anta (masculine) and أنت anti (feminine).
- There is no direct equivalent of 'is', 'am' or 'are' (verb 'to be' in the present).
- Sentences can be formed without the verb 'to be': هو مدرّس huwa mudarris (He [is a] teacher).

Plurals and plural pronouns

Many aspects of elementary Arabic grammar are straightforward, but plurals require explanation and practice.

The first point to make is that Arabic plurals refer only to three or more people or items. For two people or items, there is a separate dual form, although this is not always used in less formal Arabic. The dual form is covered separately in Unit 13.

Plural pronouns

In addition to the singular pronouns, there are also five plural pronouns:

we	نَحْنُ naḥnu
you (masculine plural)	أَنْتُمْ antum
you (feminine plural)	أَنْتُنَّ antunna
they (masculine)	هُمْ hum
they (feminine)	هُنَّ hunna

Although there are separate masculine and feminine plural forms of 'you' and 'they', the masculine is the most common. If a group of people is mixed male and female, the masculine form is used. The group must be entirely female for the feminine plural to be used. (Spoken dialects sometimes ignore even this difference and use the masculine form throughout.)

Plural nouns: introduction

Arabic nouns can be made plural in one of two ways:

- By adding a suffix (ending) to the singular noun, similar to the way English adds '-s' to 'tree' to produce 'trees' or '-es' to 'box' to produce 'boxes'. This is called the sound plural (al-jamع as-sālim الجمع السالم).
- By changing the internal vowels of the singular word, similar to the way English turns 'mouse' into 'mice' or 'man' into 'men'. This is called the broken plural (jamع at-takṣīr جمع التكسير).

However, whereas 'mouse/mice' is the exception in English, the broken plural is common in Arabic and accounts for the majority of plurals, particularly of basic words.

The simpler sound plural will be covered in this unit and the broken plural in Unit 11.

Sound plurals

There are two sound plurals, formed by adding external suffixes:

- sound masculine plural
- sound feminine plural

Sound masculine plural

The sound masculine plural is formed by adding ون -ūn or ين -īn to the singular noun:

مُدَرِّس mudarris → مُدَرِّسُونَ mudarrisūn / مُدَرِّسِينَ mudarrisīn
(male teacher) (teachers)

The alternative ين -īn ending is used in particular structures which will be explained later in this book.

The sound masculine plural (SMP) is used almost exclusively with words describing groups of males or mixed males and females, for example when referring to jobs and nationalities:

مُحَاسِب muḥāsib → مُحَاسِبُونَ muḥāsibūn / مُحَاسِبِينَ muḥāsibīn (accountant) (accountants)

عِرَاقِي irāqīy → عِرَاقِيُونَ irāqīyūn / عِرَاقِيِينَ irāqīyīn (Iraqi) (Iraqis)

Note that not all words describing male people can be made plural using the SMP. Some use a broken plural (see Unit 11).

Activity 1

Complete these sentences using the plural of the words in the box, as in the example. (All of the words can be made plural using the sound masculine -ūn ending.)

engineer	مُهَنْدِسٍ muhandis carpenter	نَجَّارٍ najjār
baker	خَبَّازٍ khabbāz
Egyptian	مِصْرِيٍّ muṣrīy
French	فَرَنْسِيٍّ faransīy

هَم مَدْرَسُونَ.

Sound feminine plural

The sound feminine plural (SFP) is formed by adding ات -āt to the singular. If the singular word ends with the feminine -a (ة), this should be removed before the SFP is added:

جُنْيَه junayh (pound) → جُنْيَاهَات junayhāt (pounds)

مُمَرِّضَة mumarrīḍa (nurse) → مُمَرِّضَات mumarrīḍāt (nurses)

سَيَّارَة sayyāra (car) → سَيَّارَات sayyārāt (cars)

Unlike the name 'sound feminine plural' suggests, this ending is not used exclusively to make feminine nouns plural. It is a common plural and is used with both feminine and masculine nouns, although not generally with nouns referring to male people. There are two main groups of nouns with which the SFP is used.

SFP with all-female groups of people

The SFP is used for groups of three or more females:

مُدَرِّسَة mudarrisa → مُدَرِّسَات mudarrisāt
(female teacher) (female teachers)

عِراقِيَّة irāqīyya → عِراقِيَّات irāqīyāt (female Iraqi) (female Iraqis)

Activity 2

Make these sentences feminine using the SFP, as in the example.

هُم مُدَرِّسُونَ. ← هُنَّ مُدَرِّسَات.

1 هُم مُحَاسِبُونَ.

2 نَحْنُ عِراقِيَّونَ.

3 هُم فَرَنسِيَّونَ.

4 أَنْتُمْ مِصرِيَّونَ؟

5 لَا، نَحْنُ كُوَيْتِيَّونَ.

6 هُم مُهَنْدِسُونَ.

SFP with masculine and feminine non-human nouns

The SFP is commonly used with a variety of masculine and feminine words referring to objects or ideas.

زُجَاجَة zujāja (bottle) → زُجَاجَات zujājāt (bottles)

اجْتِمَاع ijtimāʿ (meeting) → اجْتِمَاعَات ijtimāʿāt (meetings)

حَيَّوان ḥayawān (animal) → حَيَّوانات ḥayawānāt (animals)

لُغَة lughā (language) → لُغَات lughāt (languages)

سَيَّارَة sayyāra (car) → سَيَّارَات sayyārāt (cars)

ثَلَاجَة thallāja (fridge) → ثَلَاجَات thallājāt (fridges)

Unfortunately there are no hard-and-fast rules for knowing which nouns use the SFP, although you will get a better feel as your knowledge of the structure of Arabic increases. You need to learn each word individually with its plural.

In informal contexts you may also hear and see foreign loan words with the SFP ات -āt ending:

تِلِفُون tilifūn → تِلِفُونَات tilifūnāt
(telephone) (telephones)

كُمبِيُوتِر kumbyūtir → كُمبِيُوتِرَات kumbyūtirāt (computer) (computers)

Non-human plurals

Plural pronouns such as هُم hum and هُن hunna are only used when referring to humans, e.g. هُم مُدَرِّسُونَ hum mudarrisūn (they're teachers). With non-human plurals, Arabic uses the feminine singular pronoun, e.g. أَيْنَ الزُّجَاجَات؟ هِيَ فِي الثَّلَاجَةِ. ayna az-zujājāt? hiya fi th-thalāja (Where are the bottles? They're in the fridge).

This feature extends to all grammatical structures, such as verbs and adjectives (which will be covered in later units). The feminine singular is used with all non-human plurals whether the nouns are originally masculine or feminine in the singular.

Activity 3

Make sentences using هُوَ huwa, هِيَ hiya, هُمْ hum or هُنَّ hunna, as in the example.

1 هي مُحاسبة.

5 أين القلم؟

7 أين السيارات؟

6 أين القطّة؟

Case Notes

Plural nouns also have case endings. The neutral nominative ending for the sound feminine plural is -un/-u as it is for singular nouns:

nurses ممرضاتٌ mumarriḍātun

the nurses الممرضاتُ al-mumarriḍātu

However, the nominative ending for the sound masculine plural is -ūn for both indefinite and definite:

teachers مدرّسون mudarrisūn

the teachers المدرّسون al-mudarrisūn

The sound masculine plural is one of the few instances of the case ending being written as part of the main script and universally pronounced.

Optional Activity

Make these words plural and pronounce them with the indefinite case ending:

5 مُهندِس (male engineer)

1 زُجاجة (bottle)

6 سَيّارة (car)

2 خَبّاز (baker)

7 مُدَرِّسة (female teacher)

3 حَيّوان (animal)

8 اجْتِماع (meeting)

4 لُغة (language)

In summary

- There are two types of plural in Arabic, external 'sound' plurals and internal 'broken' plurals. There are no precise rules governing which plural is used for a particular noun.
- The sound masculine plural (SMP) is formed by adding ون / ūn / -īn to the singular and is used with nouns referring to groups of people.
- The sound feminine plural (SFP) is formed by adding ات -āt to the singular (after any ة tā marbūṭa has been removed). The SFP is used with groups of females and to make certain other masculine and feminine nouns plural.
- Arabic grammar treats any non-human plural as feminine singular. So you must use the feminine singular pronoun هي hiya with the plural of objects:

أين السيارات؟ هي في الشارع.

(Where are the cars? They are in the street.)

Demonstratives

Demonstratives are the equivalents of the English 'this' or 'that', as in 'this house', 'that boy'.

Arabic demonstratives change according to whether they are describing a feminine or a masculine word:

this (masculine)	هذا hādhā
this (feminine)	هذه hādhihi that (masculine)	ذلك dhālika that (feminine)	تلك tilka

The demonstratives go in front of the noun with the article الـ (al):

this boy	هذا الولد hādhā l-walad
this girl	هذه البنت hādhihi l-bint that house	ذلك البيت dhālika l-bayt
that city	تلك المدينة tilka l-madīna

Notice how the a of الـ (al) elides as the demonstratives all end in a vowel (see Unit 3).

Activity 1

Fill in the gaps with the correct Arabic demonstrative to match the English, as in the example:

this man	الرجُل	هذا	1
this bag	الحَقِيْبَة		2
that newspaper	الجَرِيْدَة		3 that teacher	المُدْرَس		4 that nurse	المُمْرَضَة		5
this pen	القَلَم		6
this river	النَهْر		7
that shirt	القَمِيص		8

The demonstratives can also be used with an indefinite noun without ال (al) to form a sentence:

This [is a] boy.	هذا ولد.	hādha walad.
That [is a] city.	تلك مدينة.	tilka madīna.

You need to be careful. As you already know, Arabic has no separate word for 'a/an' or direct equivalent of 'is/are'. This means that only the presence of ال (al) indicates the difference between:

a) this book	هذا الكتاب	hādha l-kitāb
b) This [is a] book.	هذا كتاب.	hādha kitāb.

If you want to say 'This is the book', etc. you need to add هو huwa (masculine) or هي hiya (feminine) after the demonstrative:

This [is] the bag. هذه هي الحَقِيْبَة.
hādhihi hiya l-ḥaqība.

That [is] the man. ذلك هو الرجل.
dhālika huwa r-rajul.

Activity 2

Write sentences to match the pictures, as in the example. Pay special attention as to whether the object is near ("this") or far away ("that").

Case Notes

If the case endings are added to demonstrative sentences, the ending will vary according to whether the noun is definite (with 'al') or indefinite:

This is a boy. هذا ولدٌ. hādha waladun.

This man is an engineer. هذا الرجل مهندسٌ. hādha r-rajulu muhandisun.

That is a river. ذلك نهرٌ. dhālika nahrūn.

Remember that if a noun ends in ة (tā marbūṭa), the tā becomes "untied" before a case ending and is pronounced as a 't' (see Unit 2):

That girl is a nurse. تلك البنت ممرضةٌ. tilka l-bintu mumarrīḍatun.

This city is large. هذه المدينة كبيرةٌ. hādhihi l-madīnatu kabīratun.

Optional Activity

Put the case endings on these sentences:

- 1 هذا قلم.
- 2 ذلك ولد.
- 3 هذا الرجل خباز.
- 4 هذه مدرسة.
- 5 تلك الحقيبة كبيرة.

Demonstratives with the plural

Remember that Arabic distinguishes between human and non-human plurals. Non-human plurals are grammatically feminine singular (see Unit 5).

So, for non-humans, the demonstratives will be the same as the feminine singular, i.e. هذه hādhihi and تلك tilka:

these meetings هذه الاجتماعات hādhihi l-ijtimā'āt

These are bottles. هذه زجاجات. hādhihi zujājāt.

Those cars are comfortable. تلك السيارات مريحة. tilka s-sayyārāt murīḥa.

When talking about people, you will see the following plural demonstratives:

these (human plural) هؤلاء hā'ulā'i those (human plural) أولئك ulā'ika

these nurses هؤلاء الممرضات hā'ulā'i l-mumarrīḍāt

Those are the teachers. أولئك هم المدرسون. ulā'ika hum al-mudarrisūn.

The plural demonstratives are difficult to spell and pronounce. As a beginner, the most important aspect is learning to recognise them.

Activity 3

Look at the pictures and decide if the sentences are true or false, as in the example:

1 هذا قلم.

2 هذه جريدة.

3 هذا قميص.

4 ذلك الرجل مدرّس.

5 هذه سيّارات.

6 هؤلاء مدرّسون.

7 ذلك بيت.

8 أولئك ممرضات.

In summary

- Arabic demonstratives change according to whether the noun is masculine or feminine, singular, plural or dual.
- The most common demonstratives are:
masculine singular: هذا hādha (this); ذلك dhālika (that) feminine singular and non-human plurals:
 هذه hādhihi (this); تلك tilka (that)
- Plural demonstratives are only used with nouns referring to humans:
 هؤلاء hā'ulā'i (this); أولئك ulā'ika (that)
- The meaning changes depending on whether the noun has the article ال al-:
 هذا الولد hādha l-walad (this boy)
 هذا ولد. hādha walad. (This is a boy.)

Adjectives and descriptive sentences

Descriptive words such as 'beautiful', 'new' or 'heavy' are known in English as adjectives.

A feature of Arabic adjectives is that many display common patterns. One of the most basic of these patterns is a fatha (a) after the first consonant and a long ي (ī) between the second and third consonants:

beautiful	jamīl	جميل ugly	qabīḥ	قبيح
new	jadīd	جديد
old	qadīm	قديم
heavy	thaqīl	ثقيل
light	khafīf	خفيف
big/large	kabīr	كبير
small	ṣaghīr	صغير
tall/long	ṭawīl	طويل
short	qaṣīr	قصير

Adjectives also often begin with م ma- or مُ mu- (the equivalent of the English past participle as in 'broken' or 'burnt' – see Unit 19):

broken	maksūr	مكسور
happy	masrūr	مسرور
famous	mash-hūr	مشهور married	mutazawwij	متزوج
suitable	munāsib	مناسب

Position and agreement of adjectives

In English, adjectives are placed in front of the noun they describe: 'beautiful river', 'new teacher'. In Arabic, descriptive words are placed after the noun and must 'agree' with it. In other words, if the noun is feminine, the adjective must also be made feminine, usually by adding ة:

(a) beautiful river	nahr jamīl	نهر جميل
(a) beautiful girl	bint jamīla	بنت جميلة
(a) new teacher	mudarris jadīd	مدرس جديد
(a) new car	sayyāra jadīda	سيارة جديدة

These descriptive words can be used to describe a noun directly, as in the above examples (known in Arabic as الصفة aṣ-ṣifa), or as the predicate of a sentence (known in Arabic as الخبر al-khabar, "the news"). الخبر al-khabar is the part of the sentence that carries the information:

The river [is] beautiful. an-nahr jamīl. النهر جميل.

The car [is] new. as-sayyāra jadīda. السيارة جديدة.

Activity 1

Look at the list of adjectives on pages 34–5 and then fill in the gaps to match the pictures, as in the example. (There may be more than one possible answer.)

3

هذا الولد

2

هذه الحقيبة

1

هذا البيت قديم

الخيمة

Adjectives with definite nouns

If an adjective is describing a definite noun with ال al ('the') as in البيت al-bayt (the house), then the adjective must also have ال al:

the new teacher al-mudarris al-jadīd المدرّس الجديد

the beautiful picture aṣ-ṣūra al-jamīla الصورة الجميلة

When a noun has a possessive ending, as in بيتي baytī (my house), the noun is definite since we know which house is referred to. In this case, the adjective will also need to begin with ال al:

بيتي الجديد في شارع قريب من المدرسة الكبيرة.

baytī al-jadīd fī shāriḥ qarīb min al-madrasa al-kabīra.

My new house is in a street near to the large school.

More details on possessive endings can be found in Unit 10.

If there is more than one adjective, they can all be added after the noun, usually separated by و wa- ('and'):

a large new school

مدرسة كبيرة وجديدة madrasa kabīra wa-jadīda

the beautiful old chair

الكرسي الجميل والقديم
al-kursī al-jamīl wal-qadīm

You need to be very careful about where you place ال al- and هذه hādā/hādhihi as the structure, and so also the meaning, will be affected:

a beautiful river

نهر جميل nahr jamīl

the beautiful river

النهر الجميل an-nahr al-jamīl

The river is beautiful.

النهر جميل.
an-nahr jamīl.

This is a beautiful river.

هذا نهر جميل.
hādā nahr jamīl.

This river is beautiful.

هذا النهر جميل.
hādā n-nahr jamīl.

Activity 2

Match the Arabic with the English:

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------|
| a) a large car | ١ هذا الرجل متزوج. |
| b) the famous river | ٢ البنت الصغيرة مسرورة. |
| c) The bag is light. | ٣ النهر المشهور |
| d) This newspaper is old. | ٤ البيت الجديد قبيح. |
| e) This man is married. | ٥ هذه الجريدة قديمة. |
| f) The small girl is happy. | ٦ سيارة كبيرة. |
| g) The new house is ugly. | ٧ الحقيبة خفيفة. |

Adjectives with plurals

Plural adjectives are used only with people. Remember that non-human plurals are always treated as feminine singular (see Unit 5) and so will be followed by a feminine singular adjective:

a long meeting	اجتماع طويل	ijtimāʿ ṭawīl
long meetings	اجتماعات طويلة	ijtimāʿāt ṭawīla
the broken bottle	الزجاجة المكسورة	az-zujāja al-maksūra
the broken bottles	الزجاجات المكسورة	az-zujājāt al-maksūra

Plural adjectives for describing people can often be formed using the sound masculine and sound feminine plurals (see Unit 5), but some of the basic adjectives have broken plurals which need to be individually learnt (see Unit 11). For now it is enough to understand the basic principle and recognise the difference:

Lebanese boys	أولاد لبنانيون awlād lūbānīyūn
new engineers	مهندسون جدد muhandisūn judud
the suitable nurses	الممرضات المناسبات al-mumarriḍāt al-munāsibāt

Activity 3

Read this description of Nadia (نادية) from Beirut (بيروت) in Lebanon. Use the correct form of the adjective in brackets to complete the paragraph, as in the example.

نادية من بيروت.
بيروت مدينة كبيرة (كبير)
و (جميل).
نادية مُدرّسة في مدرّسة
(صغير). بيت نادية (قديم) و (قريب) من البنك
(لبناني) والمصنع
(جديد). نادية
في عملها بالمدرسة.

(متزوج) وهي (مسرور)

*maṣnā = factory

Colours

Adjectives describing the basic colours have a somewhat different pattern to other adjectives. They begin with a (أ) and have another 'a' between the second and third consonants:

أَحْمَرُ aḥmar (red). They have their own special feminine form (also used with non-human plurals).

colour	masculine	feminine + plural (non-human) red	أَحْمَرُ aḥmar	حَمْرَاءُ ḥamrā'
blue	أَزْرَقُ azraq	زَرْقَاءُ zarqā' green	أَخْضَرُ akḥḍar	خَضْرَاءُ khaḍrā'
yellow	أَصْفَرُ aṣfar	صَفْرَاءُ ṣafrā'
black	أَسْوَدُ aswad	سَوْدَاءُ sawdā'
white	أَبْيَضُ abyad	بَيْضَاءُ bayḍā'

Activity 4

Make sentences as in the example. You can colour the objects first if you prefer. (Note: pens = أقلام aqlām)

red 2

هذا الكتاب أخضر.

blue 4

yellow 3

green 6

black 5

yellow + blue 7

black + white 8

Case Notes

Case endings for adjectives match that of the noun described:

a beautiful river نَهْرٌ جَمِيلٌ nahrūn jamīlūn

the old newspaper الْجَرِيدَةُ الْقَدِيمَةُ al-jarīdatu l-qadīmatu

In the following sentences the descriptive word is الخبر al-khabar (the predicate), and so it is indefinite:

This river is beautiful. هَذَا النَهْرُ جَمِيلٌ hādhā n-nahrū jamīlūn

The newspaper is old. الْجَرِيدَةُ قَدِيمَةٌ al-jarīdatu qadīmatun

Colours are an exception. The nominative case ending is -u for both indefinite and definite:

a red pen قَلَمٌ أَحْمَرٌ qalamun aḥmaru this yellow book هَذَا الْكِتَابُ الْأَصْفَرُ hādhā l-kitābu l-aṣfaru

Optional Activity

Put the case endings on the sentences in Activity 2, for example:

١ هذا الرجلُ متزوجٌ. (hādhā r-rajulu mutazawwijun).

In summary

- Arabic adjectives are placed after the noun they describe and agree with the noun, usually adding -a (ة) for a feminine noun and non-human plurals.
- The definite article ال al- should be added to the adjective if the noun described is definite.
- The plurals of adjectives are used only when describing people.
- Adjectives describing basic colours have a distinctive pattern and their own feminine forms, e.g. أَحْمَرُ/حَمْرَاءُ aḥmar/ḥamrā' (red).

Describing position

Words such as 'under', 'in' and 'on' are used to describe position. Common words used to describe position in Arabic include:

in	في fi
on	على alā
under	تَحْتَ taḥta
above	فَوْقَ fawqa
in front of	أَمَامَ amāma
behind	وَرَاءَ warā'a
next to	بِجَانِبِ bijānib between	بَيْنَ bayna
from	مِنْ min
to	إِلَى ilā

Arabic positional sentences work in a similar way to English ones. Note that since many of the positional words end with a short or long vowel, the a of the following al- elides.

The newspaper [is] on the chair. الجريدة على الكرسي.
al-jarīda alā l-kursī.

There [is] a dog under the table. هناك كلب تحت المائدة.
hunāka kalb taḥta l-mā'ida.

Al-Manama [is] in Bahrain. المنامة في البحرين.
al-manāma fi l-baḥrayn.

يَمِين yamīn (right) and إِلَى ilā (to) can also be combined with على alā (on) and يَسَار yasār (left):

The school is on the left. المدرسة على اليسار.
al-madrasa alā l-yasār.

We went to the right. ذهبنا إلى اليمين.
dhahabnā ilā l-yamīn.

Activity 1

Draw the objects in the correct position to match the sentence, as in the example:

١ هناك زجاجة تحت الكرسي.

٢ هناك كلب على المائدة.

٢ القلم في الحقيبة.

٤ هناك سيارات أمام البيت.

٥ السرير بجانب الباب
على اليمين.

٦ الشباك بين الخزانة
والكرسي.

Activity 2

Rearrange the Arabic into sentences to match the English meaning, as in the example.

١ بجانب/البنك/المدرسة/الجديد
البنك الجديد بجانب المدرسة.

The new bank is next to the school.

٢ في/مهندس/السيارات/فيصل/مصنع

Faisal is an engineer in the car factory.

٣ لبنان/نادية/من/في/بيروت

Nadia is from Beirut in Lebanon.

٤ صغيرة/فوق/هناك/الشباك/صورة

٥ إلى/قديمة/ذهبنا/مدينة

We went to an old town.

٦ حقيبة/على/هناك/الكرسي/ثقيلة

There's a heavy bag on the table.

Activity 3

Look at the scene below:

Now choose the correct word from the box to complete the description of the scene on page 45, as in the example.

كَبِيرَةٌ فوق على الأسود هناك ~~شارع~~

الْبَيْتِ بِنْتِ قَدِيمِ السَّيَّارَةِ وِراءَ دَرَّاجَةٍ

هذا شارع كبير. في وسط الشارع _____ متحف (museum).

هناك شجر طويل _____ المتحف وولد على _____ أمام

المتحف. هناك مدرسة _____ بجانب المتحف.

_____ يمين المتحف هناك بيت _____ وجميل.

الرجل مع (with) الكلب _____ أمام _____.

وهناك طائرة (airplane) _____ البيت.

في الشارع هناك سيارات وفي _____ البيضاء هناك

إمرأة (woman) و _____.

Case Notes

The grammatical case endings of nouns and adjectives change after positional words. The nominative endings (t)un (ـُ) or (t)u (ـ) on the noun or adjective become (t)in (ـِ) or (t)i (ـِي).

These case endings are known as majrūr in Arabic and as genitive in English. The genitive is used after prepositions and positional words (and when describing possession which will be covered in Unit 10).

under a table taḥt mā'idatin تحت مائدة in the old house fī l-bayti l-qadīmi في البيت القديم behind the cars warā'a s-sayyārāti وراء السيارات

Look at these example sentences with the case endings added:

The newspaper [is] on the table. الجريدة على المائدة.
al-jarīdatu alā l-mā'idati.

There [is] a dog in the house. هناك كلب في البيت.
hunāka kalbun fī l-bayti.

He is a teacher in a new school. هو مدرّس في مدرسة جديدة.
huwa mudarrisun fī madrasatin jadīdatin.

Remember that case endings are not normally added to words of foreign origin such as راديو (rādyū) or تليفون (tilifūn).

Optional Activity

Read these sentences with the case endings and say what they mean in English.

١ البنت في المدرسة.

٢ هناك قلم على المائدة.

٣ الولد بين الشباك والباب.

٤ ذهبنا إلى المدينة.

٥ هناك نهر جميل في المدينة.

٦ هناك مصنع جديد بجانب النهر.

In summary

- Positional words such as في (in) and على (on) describe position.
- Arabic positional sentences are formed in a similar way to English ones.

Forming questions

Note that أ a is written as part of the following word, as are all Arabic words that consist of only one letter.

Activity 1

Answer the questions as in the example.

هل القطّة تحت الكرسي؟ نعم، هي تحت الكرسي.

1

Questions are relatively simple to form in Arabic. There is no special question form, such as the English 'do/does?' or 'did?', and the order of words is generally not affected.

Yes/no questions

Questions requiring only the answer نعم naʿm (yes) or لا lā (no) can be made in one of two ways:

- 1 Adding a question mark at the end of a statement (or orally adding a question tone). This is most common in less formal Arabic:

Khartoum is in Sudan?

الخرطوم في السودان؟
al-kharṭūm fī s-sūdān?

This car is new?

هذه السيّارة جديدة؟
hādhihi s-sayyāra jadīda?

- 2 Adding the question marker هل hal (or less commonly أ a) in front of a statement:

Is the cat in the house?

هل القطّة في البيت؟
hal al-qitṭa fī l-bayt?

Is there a bank near the office?

هل هناك بنك قريب من المكتب؟ hal hunāka bank qarīb min al-maktab?

Are you Mahmoud?

أأنت محمود؟
a-anta maḥmūd?

هم مُحاسبون؟

2

هل السيّارة بيضاء؟

3

أهذا كتاب؟

4

هل البنك وراء الشجر؟

5

الكلب أبيض؟

6

Question words

Other questions begin with a specific question word, such as أين ayna? (where?) or مَنْ man? (who?). In this case, the question markers هل hal or أ a are not used:

Where's Damascus?	أَيْنَ دِمَشْق؟ هي في سوريا.
It's in Syria.	ayna dīmaṣḥq? hiya fī sūriyā.
Who's this?	مَنْ هَذَا؟ هذا أخي.
This is my brother.	man hādhā? hādhā akhī.

Some of the more commonly used question words include:

where?	أَيْنَ ayna
who?	مَنْ man
what?	مَا/مَاذَا mā/mādhā
why?	لِمَاذَا limādhā
when?	مَتَى matā
how?	كَيْفَ kayfa
how many?	كَمْ kam
how much? (price)	بِكَمْ bikam
which?	أَيَّ ayy

Note that there are two question words meaning 'what'. مَا mā is used with a following noun and مَاذَا mādhā mainly with a verb:

What's your address?	مَا عُنْوَانُكَ mā'unwānak?
What are you doing?	مَاذَا تَفْعَلُ mādhā taf'al?

كَمْ kam (how many?) is followed by a singular noun. In addition the noun has a special ending - (t)an known as tanwīn al-faḥḥ. This ending carries the meaning of 'as to' or 'regarding' and is written on an extra alif (ا) if the noun does not end in ta' marbūṭa. This is one of the few examples of the system of Arabic case endings affecting the basic spelling and pronunciation. The Case Notes in this unit will give you further details, or you can just remember when to use tanwīn al-faḥḥ on a case-by-case basis:

How many boys? كَمْ وَلَدًا? kam waladan?

How many schools? كَمْ مَدْرَسَةً? kam madrasatan?

(In less formal spoken Arabic tanwīn al-faḥḥ is not usually pronounced.)

Activity 2

Fill in the appropriate question word, as in the example.

- ١ أَيْنَ البنت؟ هي في المدرسة.
- ٢ اسمك؟ اسمي أحمد.
- ٣ هذا؟ هذا أخي.
- ٤ ولداً في المدرسة؟
- ٥ التين (figs)؟ التين بخمسة جنيهات.
- ٦ حالك؟ أنا بخير.
- ٧ ذهبت (did you go) إلى مصر؟ في مايو.
- ٨ ذهبت إلى مصر؟ لأن (because) أمي مصرية.

Activity 3

Now make questions to suit the answers, as in the example.

١ أنا من السودان. أنت من أين؟

٢ هو من أمريكا.

٣ هناك ١٠ زجاجات على المائدة.

٤ السَّيَّارَة فِي الشَّارِع.

٥ الحَفْلَة السَّاعَة الثَّالِثَة.
(The party is at 3 o'clock.)

٦ نَعَمْ. هُنَاكَ بَنْكٌ فِي الْمَدِينَة.

٧ كَتَبَ أَحْمَدُ الرِّسَالَة.

Case Notes

The third, and final, case in Arabic is known as النصب an-naṣb, or the accusative. The indefinite accusative is vowelled with two fathas (َ) and pronounced (t)an. كَمْ kam (how many?) is followed by a singular noun in the indefinite accusative.

An unusual feature of the accusative case is that the indefinite ending is written on an extra alif (أ alif tanwīn). The exception is if the noun already ends in the feminine ة tā marbūṭa:

how many men? كَمْ رَجُلًا? kam rajulan

how many cars? كَمْ سَيَّارَةً? kam sayyāratan

Optional Activity

Ask how many there are of the following items, as in the example. Remember to use a singular noun with the accusative case ending:

In summary

- Yes/no questions can be made by adding a question marker (هل or أ) to a statement. Question markers are not generally used in less formal Arabic, with the tone of voice being used to convey a question.
- Other questions can be formed by putting specific question words such as أَيْنَ ayna? or كَيْفَ kayfa? in front of a sentence without changing the word order: كَيْفَ ذَهَبْتَ إِلَى مِصْرَ? kayfa dhahabta ilā miṣr? (How did you go to Egypt?).
- كَمْ kam? (how many?) is followed by a singular noun (written with an extra alif if it has no ة): كَمْ بَيْتًا? kam baytan (how many houses?).

Possession: idāfa (إضافة) and attached pronouns

To express possession, as in 'Anwar's book' or 'the manager of the company', Arabic puts two or more nouns directly together in the order possessed + possessor:

Anwar's book	كتاب أنور kitāb anwar
Mohammed's son	ابن محمد ibn muḥammad
the door of the house	باب البيت bāb al-bayt

This type of construction is known as إضافة idāfa, literally meaning 'addition'.

Only the final noun in an idāfa can have the article ال al-:

the son of the manager	ابن المدير ibn al-mudīr
the son of the manager of the department	ابن مدير القسم ibn mudīr al-qism
the son of the manager of the sales department ('department of sales')	ابن مدير قسم المبيعات ibn mudīr qism al-mubā'āt

The meaning will change if the last noun is indefinite:

the manager of a department	مدير قسم mudīr qism
the door of a house	باب بيت bāb bayt

Feminine words in idāfa

If the first word in an idāfa ends with ṣ a (tā' marbūṭa), the 't' is pronounced:

Anwar's car	سيارة أنور sayyārat anwar
Mohammed's wife	زوجة محمد zawjat muḥammad
the village school	مدرسة القرية madrasat al-qarya

Activity 1

Look at the pictures of Anwar and Zainab surrounded by their possessions. Make sentences, as in the examples.

هذا كلب أنور.
(hadhā kalb anwar.)

هذه دراجة زينب.
(hadhihi darrājat zaynab.)

Plurals in idāfa

Generally, plural words can be put into possessive idāfa in the same way as singular words:

the president's cars	سيارات الرئيس sayyārāt ar-ra'īs
bottles of cola	زجاجات كولا zujājāt kūlā

However, the sound masculine plural ون ūn/ين īn ending, as in مدرّسون/مدرّسين mudarrisūn/mudarrisīn (teachers), changes when in an idāfa:

- If the SMP is the first word in an idāfa, it loses the final ن n, but it may be either و ū or ي ī depending on the sentence (see Case Notes for more detail).
- If the SMP is the final word in an idāfa, the ين īn ending is always used.

Where are the boy's teachers?

أَيْنَ مدرّسو الولد؟ ayna mudarrisū l-walad?

I spoke to the company's accountants.

كَلَّمْتُ محاسبِي الشركة.
kallamtu muḥāsibī sh-sharika.

I went to the office of the engineers.

ذَهَبْتُ إِلَى مكتب المهندسين.
dhahabtu ilā maktab al-muhandisīn

Adjectives and idāfa

As a rule, you can't separate words in an idāfa, so any adjective will come at the end even if it describes the first word. The adjective will match the gender of the noun it is describing and will have the article الـ al- if the noun is definite:

the town's beautiful river

نهر المدينة الجميل nahr al-madīna al-jamīl

the beautiful town's river

نهر المدينة الجميلة nahr al-madīna al-jamīla

the small boy's bicycle

دراجة الولد الصغير darrārajāt al-walad aṣ-ṣaghīr

the boy's small bicycle

دراجة الولد الصغيرة darrārajāt al-walad aṣ-ṣaghīra

Activity 2

Form idāfa constructions for these English possessive phrases, as in the example

1 Ahmed's new car

سيّارة أحمد الجديدة

2 Jihan's old pen

3 the engineers of the factory

4 the boy's heavy bag

5 Mohammed's white shirt

6 the bakers of the town

7 the window of the small house

8 the company of the Iraqi engineers

Case Notes

You have met the genitive case used with prepositions of place in Unit 8. The genitive case is also used for possession.

The second noun in an idāfa (and any subsequent nouns) will have the genitive case ending, -(t)in for an indefinite noun, or -(t)i for a definite noun, while the case of the first noun will vary depending on the sentence:

This is the door of the house.

هذا باب البيت.
hādhā bābu l-bayti.

He opened the door of the house.

فَتَحَ باب البيت.
fataḥa bāba l-bayti.

She's the manager of a company.

هي مديرة شركة.
hiya mudīratu sharikatin.

We sat next to the manager of a company.

جلسنا بجانب مديرة شركة.
jalasnā bi-jānib mudīrati sharikatin

Sound masculine plural

In the accusative and genitive cases, the ون -ūn ending of the SMP changes to ين -īn. Therefore the ين -īn ending is used for the second noun in an idāfa or after a positional word:

the office of the engineers	مكتب المهندسين maktabu l-muhandisīn
I sat next to the teachers.	جلست بجانب المدرسين. jalastu bi-jānib al-mudarrisīn.

When the SMP is the first noun in an idāfa, the case ending will vary depending on the sentence. In addition, the ن n is dropped:

Where are the boy's teachers?	أين مدرسو الولد؟ ayna mudarrisū l-waladī?
I sat next to the boy's teachers.	جلست بجانب مدرسي الولد. jalastu bi-jānib mudarrisī l-waladī.

Attached pronouns

The Arabic equivalent of 'my', 'your', 'his', etc. are endings attached to the word being referred to: كتابي kitābī (my book); بيتنا bayt(u)nā (our house). The main attached endings are:

my	آي
your (masc.)	ك -ka (-ak)
your (fem.)	كي -ki (-ik)
his	ه -hu (-uh)
her	ها -hā
our	نا -nā your (pl.)	كم -kum
their (masc.)	هم -hum
their (fem.)	هنّ -hunna

In more formal Arabic, possessive endings other than آي (my) should be preceded by a vowel representing the appropriate case ending (see Case Notes panels). However, in a less formal context, alternative pronunciations are used which avoid having to take account of these case endings. These are given in brackets in the examples below. Compare the formal pronunciation with the informal in brackets:

your (masc.) book	كتابك kitābuka (kitābak)
your (fem.) house	بيتك baytuki (baytik)
Where's his office?	أين مكتبه؟ ayna maktabuhu (maktabuh)?
She's in her house.	هي في بيتها hiya fī baytiḥā (baythā)

As a learner you can choose to use the informal, while recognising the formal pronunciation.

As with idāfa, the ة is pronounced when an attached pronoun is added. It will also be spelt as a regular ت:

his car	سيارته sayyāratuhu (sayyāratuh)
our bag	حقابتنا ḥaqībatunā (ḥaqībatnā)
their school	مدرستهم madrasatuhum (madrasathum)

In formal Arabic, ه -hu (his) and هُنَّ/هُمْ -hum/-hunna (their) change to -hi and -him/-hinna after the sound i or ay:

in his car	في سيارته fī sayyāratihī
They went to their house.	ذهبوا إلى بيتهم dhahabū ilā baytiḥim
They went to it.	ذهبوا إليه dhahabū ilayhi

Activity 3

Put the correct possessive ending on the nouns, as in the example. Use the informal or formal pronunciation as you prefer.

- ١ بيت + هو = بيته baytuhu (baytuh)
 ٢ مدرسة + هم =
 ٣ حال + أنت =
 ٤ قلم + هي =
 ٥ سيارة + أنا =
 ٦ مدينة + نحن =
 ٧ كلب + أنت =
 ٨ بيت + أنتم =

Activity 4

Make sentences using possessive endings, as in the example. Use the informal or formal pronunciation as you prefer.

- ١ أنا في بيت نادية. أنا في بيتها. anā fi baytiḥā (baythā)
 ٢ هل هذا كتاب أحمد؟
 ٣ لا، هذا كتاب زينب.
 ٤ سيارات المدرسين في الشارع.
 ٥ باب البيت أبيض.
 ٦ أين حقيبة الممرّضات؟
 ٧ مكتب المهندسين الكبير قريب من المدرسة.
 ٨ كيف حال زوجك؟

Ownership

The Arabic prepositions لـ li- (for/belonging to), عند inda (at/chez) and مع maʿa (with) are used with a noun or possessive ending to express the equivalent of 'to have'. لـ li- and عند inda express general ownership, whereas مع maʿa implies you have the thing with you:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---|
| I have a brother. | لـ عندى أخ. indī akh. |
| Fatima has a large car. | لفاطمة سيارة كبيرة. li-faṭīma sayyāra kabīra. |
| Do you have a pen [with you]? | هل معك قلم؟ hal maʿak qalam? |

Notice that لـ li-, like all other one-letter Arabic words, is written joined to the word following. The vowel changes to لا- la- before the possessive pronouns هـ -hu (his), ها- hā (her) and هم -hum (their):

- | | |
|------------------------------|--|
| She has a black dog. | لها كلب أسود. lahā kalb aswad. |
| They have a house in France. | لهم بيت في فرنسا. lahum bayt fi faransā. |

Activity 5

Join the Arabic to the equivalent English, for example a) ٦.

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------|
| a) I have an aunt whose name is May. | ٦ لأمي سيارة جديدة. |
| b) Do you have a dog? | ٢ لنا ابنة وابن. |
| c) Does he have a dog? | ٣ هل معك الكتاب؟ |
| d) We have a daughter and a son. | ٤ هل عندك كلب؟ |
| e) Do you have the book? | ٥ للمهندسين مكتب كبير. |
| f) My mother has a new car. | ٦ لي خالة اسمها ماي. |
| g) The engineers have a large office. | ٧ هل عنده كلب؟ |

Case Notes

Nouns with a possessive ending are definite and will carry the appropriate case ending in formal Arabic:

our house	بَيْتُنَا baytunā
in our house	فِي بَيْتِنَا bayt/nā
his car	سَيَّارَتُهُ sayyāratuhu
under his car	تَحْتَ سَيَّارَتِهِ taḥt sayyārat/hi

The sound masculine plural loses the final ن when a possessive ending is added, as it does in iḍāfa constructions:

the bank and its accountants	الْبَنْكُ وَمُحَاسِبُوهُ al-bank wa muḥāsibūhu
We are with our teachers.	نَحْنُ مَعَ مُدَرِّسِينَا. naḥnu maʿa mudarrisīnā.

In summary

- Arabic puts two or more nouns directly together in the order possessed + possessor to express possession, e.g. بَيْتُ النَّجَّارِ bayt an-najjār (the carpenter's house). This type of possessive construction is called إِضَافَةٌ iḍāfa.
- Only the last word in an iḍāfa can have ال al, even though the first noun is definite.
- Endings are added to Arabic nouns to convey the meaning of 'my', 'your', etc.: بَيْتِي baytī (my house).
- لِ li-, عِنْدَ inda and مَعَ maʿa can be used with nouns or possessive endings to express ownership: لِمُحَمَّدٍ سَيَّارَةٌ غَالِيَةٌ li-muḥammad sayyāra ghāliya (Mohammed has an expensive car).

unit 11

Plurals: broken plural

Remember that there are two basic types of Arabic plural:

- sound plural (الجمع السالم al-jamʿ as-sālim):
sound masculine plural (SMP) -ūn/-īn: مُدَرِّسٌ mudarris (teacher) → مُدَرِّسُونَ/مُدَرِّسِينَ mudarrisūn/mudarrisīn (teachers) sound feminine plural (SFP) -āt: سَيَّارَةٌ sayyāra (car) → سَيَّارَاتٌ sayyārāt (cars)
- broken plural (جمع التكسير jamʿ at-taksīr), formed by changing the internal vowels of the singular word, similar to the way English turns 'mouse' into 'mice' or 'man' into 'men'.

Unit 5 explained how the sound plural is formed. This unit will look at broken plurals.

Forming broken plurals

Many basic Arabic nouns cannot be made plural using either the SMP or SFP. They are made plural by using the broken plural (جمع التكسير jamʿ at-taksīr). Although this system may at first seem random, there is method in the 'breakage'.

To form a broken plural you need to identify the (usually) three root consonants of a noun (see Unit 1). This can often be done by ignoring long and short vowels and any ة (tā' marbūṭa):

كلب kalb (dog) → root = ك / ل / ب

صاحب ṣāḥib (friend/owner) → root = ص / ح / ب

علبة ulba (box/packet) → root = ع / ل / ب

The root letters, always in the same sequence, are then put into a number of different patterns to form plurals:

كلب kalb (dog) → كِلَاب kilāb (dogs)

صاحب ṣāḥib (friend/owner) → أَصْحَاب aṣḥāb (friends/owners)

علبة ulba (box/packet) → عُلَب ulab (boxes/packets)

You can see that the plural of كلب kalb (dog) takes the root letters and adds a kasra (i) after the first root letter ك and a long ā between the second and third root letters (ل and ب) to produce كِلَاب kilāb (dogs). This plural pattern is known as the فِعال fi'āl pattern in Arabic grammar, with the consonants ف / ع / ل representing the three root letters. (The root ل / ع / ف carries the meaning of 'to do' or 'to make' and this is why it is used in Arabic grammar to represent the generic root.) So, the pattern used to produce the plural أَصْحَاب aṣḥāb (friends/owners) is known as the أفعال af'āl pattern and the pattern used to produce عُلَب ulab (packets) as the فُعَل fu'el pattern.

There are a dozen or so significant broken plural patterns. At the beginning you will need to learn each noun with its individual plural, although later you will begin to develop an instinct for which pattern to use.

For the sake of convenience, we have divided the patterns into groups, starting with some of the most common.

Broken plurals: group 1

Plural pattern	Example
فِعال fi'āl	كلب kalb (dog) → كِلَاب kilāb
أفعال af'āl	صاحب ṣāḥib (friend/owner) → أَصْحَاب aṣḥāb
فُعَل fu'el	علبة ulba (box/packet) → عُلَب ulab
فُعُول fu'ūl	بيت bayt (house) → بُيُوت buyūt

Activity 1

Complete the chart below, using the appropriate plural pattern.

Plural pattern	Plural	Singular
فُعُول fu'ūl	١	بنك bank (bank)
أفعال af'āl	٢	ولد walad (boy)
فُعُول fu'ūl	٤	قصر qaṣr (palace)
٥	أفلام aflām (films)	فيلم film (film)
أفعال fi'āl	٦	جبل jabal (mountain)
٧	لُعَب lu'ab (toys)	لعبة lu'ba (toy)
٩	جمال jimāl (camels)	٨
١١	ملوك mulūk (kings)	١٠
أفعال af'āl	١٢	هرم haram (pyramid)
١٤	شيوخ shuyūkh (sheiks)	١٣

Broken plurals: group 2

Plural pattern	Example
فُعُول fu'ūl	كتاب kitāb (book) → كُتُب kutub
أفعال af'āl	شهر shahr (month) → أَشْهُر ash-hur
أفعال fawā'il	شارع shāri' (street) → شَوَارِع shawāri'
أفعال fu'alā'	وزير wazīr (minister) → وَزَرَاء wuzarā'

Activity 2

Match the singular to the plural, for example: ١(g) .

(a) سَفُن	١ سَهْم (company share)
(b) رُؤَسَاء	٢ مَدِينَة (town/city)
(c) مَدْن	٣ طَرِيق (road/way)
(d) طُرُق	٤ خَاتِم (ring)
(e) أُمَرَاء	٥ سَفِير (ambassador)
(f) مَوَائِد	٦ رَئِيس (president)
(g) أَسْهُم	٧ عَاصِمَة (capital city)
(h) خَوَاتِم	٨ أَمِير (prince/emir)
(i) عَوَاصِم	٩ سَفِينَة (ship)
(j) سَفَرَاء	١٠ مَائِدَة (table)

Now cover up the left-hand column and try to say plurals out loud after the singular.

Other broken plurals

There are other broken plural patterns, such as قُمَصَان qumṣān, the plural of قَمِيص qamīṣ (shirt), or خِيَام khiyām, the plural of خَيْمَة khayma (tent). These are best learnt as and when you encounter them.

A few words have four root letters (see Unit 1) and the plurals of these words tend to be similar to the فَوَاعِل fawā'il pattern: فُنْدُق funduq (hotel) → فَنَادِيق fanādiq (hotels).

Using broken plurals in sentences

Don't forget that only humans are treated as plural in Arabic grammar. The plural of non-human objects and ideas is treated as feminine singular:

Singular	Plural
هو وزير. huwa wazīr. (He's a [gov.] minister.)	هُم وُزَرَاء. hum wuzarā' (They are ministers.)
هو كتابي. huwa kitābī. (It's my book.)	هِيَ كُتُبِي. hiya kutubī. (They are my books.)
هذا وزير عراقي. hādhā wazīr ʿirāqī. (This is an Iraqi minister.)	هَؤُلَاءِ وُزَرَاء عِرَاقِيَّوْن. hā'ulā' wuzarā' ʿirāqīyyūn. (These are Iraqi ministers.)
هذا الخاتم مُسْتَوْرَد. hādhā khātim mustawrad. (This ring is imported.)	هَذِهِ الْخَوَاتِم مُسْتَوْرَدَة. hādhīhi l-khawātim mustawrada. (These rings are imported.)

Activity 3

Make these sentences plural, as in the example:

١ هذا القصر جميل. هذه القصور جميلة.

٢ السيّارة في الشارع.

٣ اللّعبة بجانب الكتاب.

٤ أين قلّمي الجديد؟

٥ هناك جبل طويل.

٦ بيتنا أبيض.

٧ المدرّس مصريّ.

٨ الهرم في الجيزة.

٩ الكتاب القديم على المائدة.

١٠ هذه صورة زينب.

Case Notes

Case endings can be added to plural nouns in much the same way as to singular nouns:

house	بيتٌ baytun
houses	بيوتٌ buyūṭun
in the town	في المدينة fi l-madīnati
in the towns	في المدن fi l-muduni

Exceptions are a few plural patterns which don't have tanwīn (nunation) in the indefinite, e.g.

فَوَاعِلُ fawā'ilu	خَوَاتِمُ khawātimu (rings)
	الخَوَاتِمُ al-khawātimu (the rings)
فُعَلَاءُ fu'alā'u	وُزَرَاءُ wuzarā'u (ministers)
	الْوُزَرَاءُ al-wuzarā'u (the ministers)

Optional Activity

Write the case endings on your answers to Activity 3 and read the sentences out loud, e.g:

هذه القصورُ جميلةٌ. hādhihi l-quṣūru jamīlatun.

unit 12

Comparative and superlative

The comparative and superlative are used to compare objects or ideas. The comparative in English is formed using -er with shorter adjectives or more with longer ones: faster, more comfortable; the superlative using -est or most: fastest, most comfortable. Similarly, Arabic has a different method of forming the comparative and superlative with short, basic adjectives and longer, more complicated ones.

Forming the comparative Arabic forms the comparative in one of two ways:

1 أفْعَلُ af'al pattern

The أفْعَلُ af'al pattern is used with short, basic adjectives with three identifiable root letters. An alif is added before the first root letter and a fathā (a) between the second and third root letters:

كَبِيرٌ kabīr (big) → أَكْبَرُ akbar (bigger)

جَمِيلٌ jamīl (beautiful) → أَجْمَلُ ajmal (more beautiful)

طَوِيلٌ ṭawīl (long/tall) → أَطْوَلُ aṭwal (longer/taller)

Some adjectives share the same second and third root letter (see Unit 1). These are written together in the comparative with the fathā (a) moving after the first root letter:

جَدِيدٌ jadīd (new) → أَجَدُّ ajadd (newer)

شَدِيدٌ shadīd (strong) → أَشَدُّ ashadd (stronger)

In summary

- Many Arabic words are made plural using internal 'broken' plurals rather than external 'sound' plurals.
- Broken plurals are made by putting the root letters of singular nouns into different plural patterns.
- There are a dozen or so common broken plural patterns. The plural of individual words cannot easily be predicted by a beginner although certain patterns will emerge.

If the final root of the adjective is ي or و, this changes to alif maqṣūra (ā written as ى) at the end of the comparative:

غني ghanī (rich) → أغنى aghnā (richer)

حلو ḥilw (sweet) → أحلى ahlā (sweeter)

2 أكثر akthar + noun

Longer adjectives cannot generally be made into a comparative using the أفعل afʿal pattern. Instead أكثر akthar (more) is used with a noun carrying the special tanwīn al-fath (ـ -an) ending we have already met after كم kam (see pages 50–2). Remember that this ending carries the meaning of ‘as to’ or ‘regarding’ and is written on an extra alif (إ) if the noun does not end in ta’ marbūṭa:

أكثر إفادة akthar ifādatan (more useful – ‘more as to usefulness’)

أكثر انتشاراً akthar intishāran (more widespread)

أكثر ملائمة akthar mulā’imatan (more suitable)

As a beginner, it is enough to recognise this. Later you will be able to form similar comparisons using the appropriate noun.

Activity 1

Make these adjectives comparative, as in the example.

أقبح	١ قبيح (ugly)
...	٢ صغير (small)
...	٣ قصير (short)
...	٤ خفيف (light)
...	٥ ثقيل (heavy)
...	٦ قديم (old)
...	٧ كثير (many)
...	٨ سريع (fast)

Comparing things

The comparative doesn’t generally change for masculine feminine or plural. The equivalent of than as in bigger than is من min (literally ‘from’):

القصر أقدم من المسجد.
al-qaṣr aqdam min al-masjid.
The palace is older than the mosque.

هذه السيارة أسرع من تلك السيارة.
hādhihi s-sayyāra asraʿ min tilka s-sayyāra.
This car is faster than that car.

بيتي أكبر من بيتك.
baytī akbar min baytak (baytika).
My house is bigger than your house.

The attached pronouns, as used for possession (see Unit 10), can also be used with من min:

أنا أطول منها.
anā aṭwal minhā.
I’m taller than her.

هم أسرع منا.
hum asraʿ minnā.
They’re faster than us.

Activity 2

Mine’s better than yours! Use the comparative to do a bit of boasting, as in the examples.

أنا طويل. ← أنا أطول منك!
I’m tall. I’m taller than you!

سيّارتي سريعة. ← سيّارتي أسرع من سيّارتك!
My car is fast. My car is faster than your car!

١ بيتي قديم.

٢ أنا غنيّ.

٣ مدينتي جميلة.

٤ حقيبتني خفيفة.

٥ قميصي جديد.

٦ أنا سريع.

٧ سيّارتي غالية.

٨ خاتمي كبير.

Activity 3

Now make as many sentences as you can comparing the teacher and the accountant in the picture, as in the examples:

المدرّس أطول من المحاسب.
al-mudarris aṭwal min al-muḥāsib.

The teacher is taller than the accountant.

بيت المحاسب أكبر من بيت المدرّس.
bayt al-muḥāsib akbar min bayt al-mudarris.

The accountant's house is bigger than the teacher's house.

The superlative

The most common ways in Arabic to express a superlative, as in 'the fastest' or 'the most beautiful', is either to put the comparative in front of the noun:

أسرع سيّارة asraʿ sayyāra (the fastest car)

أجمل نهر ajmal nahr (the most beautiful river) or simply to add the article ال al to the comparative with the meaning 'the fastest one', 'the most beautiful one', etc:

الأسرع al-asraʿ

الأجمل al-ajmal

Activity 4

Choose a phrase from the box to fill the gaps in the sentences.

أقدم بيت أكبر مدينة أقصر
أسرع ولد الأثقل أجدّ مهندس

١ محمود في المدرسة.

٢ هل هذه الحقيبة خفيفة؟ لا، هي

٣ هذا في الشارع.

٤ القاهرة في مصر.

٥ أمي أقصر مني ولكن أخي هو

٦ بدر في المصنع.

Case Notes

The accusative indefinite ending -(t)an is added to the noun when it is used in the structure أَكْثَرُ akthar (more) + noun. This means the extra alif tanwīn will appear if the noun does not end with ة taa marbūṭa (see Case Notes, Unit 9):

أَكْثَرُ إِفَادَةٍ akthar ifādatan (more useful)

أَكْثَرُ انْتِشَارًا akthar intishāran (more widespread)

The superlative, e.g. وَلَدٌ أَسْرَعُ asraʿ walad (the fastest boy), is an إِضَافَةٌ iḍāfa structure (see Unit 10). So the second noun will have the genitive ending -(t)in:

وَلَدٌ أَسْرَعُ asraʿu waladin (fastest boy)

أَرْخَصُ جَرِيدَةٍ arkhaṣu jarīdatin (cheapest newspaper)

unit 13

The dual

Arabic grammar regards the plural as referring to three or more. There is a special dual form when referring to two. The dual ending ان/َيْنَ -ān/-ayn is added to a noun to express the meaning of 'two'.

كِتَابٌ kitāb (book)

كِتَابَانِ/كِتَابَيْنِ kitābān/kitābayn (two books)

كُتُبٌ kutub (three or more books)

The context will dictate whether the ان -ān or َيْنَ -ayn ending is used, in a similar way to the sound masculine plural alternative endings ون -ūn / ين -īn. (Note that spoken dialects generally use the َيْنَ -ayn dual ending in all contexts.)

If a word ends with ة tā marbūṭa this is pronounced when the dual ending is added:

مَدِينَةٌ madīna (town)

مَدِينَتَانِ/مَدِينَتَيْنِ madīnatān/madīnatayn (two towns)

مُدُنٌ mudun (three or more towns)

The dual is often used when talking about parts of the body, as many of these come in pairs:

رِجْلٌ rijl (leg) رِجْلَانِ/رِجْلَيْنِ rijlān/rijlayn (two legs)

يَدٌ yad (hand) يَدَانِ/يَدَيْنِ yadān/yadayn (two hands)

In summary

- Arabic has a special comparative form: أَفْعَلُ afʿal, e.g. أَكْبَرُ akbar (bigger).
- مِنْ min is used to compare two things, e.g.: أَكْبَرُ مِنْ... akbar min... (bigger than...).
- Longer adjectives that can't be put into the أَفْعَلُ afʿal pattern are made comparative by using أَكْثَرُ akthar (more) + noun with -(t)an: أَكْثَرُ إِفَادَةٍ akthar ifādatan (more useful).
- أَفْعَالُ afʿal + (indefinite) noun = superlative (the -est/most): أَكْبَرُ بَيْتٍ akbar bayt (the biggest house).

Activity 1

Make the dual to match the pictures, as in the example.

(ḥaqībatān/ḥaqībatayn) حقيبتان / حقيبتين

Dual pronouns

The dual also has its own pronouns (and verbal forms which are covered in Part 2). Unlike the dual noun ending, this is a feature of Standard Arabic but rarely used in spoken dialects.

Dual pronouns are similar to the plural, but with a long ā:

you (two)	أنتما antumā
they (two)	هما humā

The dual in sentences

The main uses of the final dual -ayn ending are:

- when the dual noun is after a positional word or preposition
- when the dual noun is the last word in an iḍāfa
- when the dual noun is the object of a verb (see Unit 14).

Otherwise the -ān ending is generally used, although you should be aware there are exceptions to this.

They are the two ambassadors.

هما السفيران.
humā s-safirān.

I'm in front of the two houses.

أنا أمام البيتین.
anā amāma l-baytayn.

My sister bought two books from the market.

اشترت أختي كتابین من السوق.
ishtarāt ukhtī kitābayn min s-sūq.

This is the office of the two engineers

هذا مكتب المهندسين.
hādhā maktab al-muhandisayn.

Where are her two daughters?

أين بنتاهما؟ ayn bintāhā?

Both the schools of the town are large.

مدرستا المدينة كبيرتان.
madrasatā l-madīna kabīratān.

Notice that when the dual is the first word in an iḍāfa or has a possessive ending, it loses the final ن (n) in a similar way to the sound masculine plural.

Case Notes

The dual case endings are comparable to the sound masculine plural (see Units 5 and 10). As with the the sound masculine plural, the dual is one of the few instances when the case ending is written as part of the main script.

The -ān ending is nominative and the -ayn ending is accusative and genitive. As the accusative is used for the object of a verb and the genitive is used after positional words and for the last word in an iḍāfa, the -ayn ending is used in these contexts.

Activity 2

What do these sentences mean? Match the Arabic to the equivalent English.

- | | |
|---|--------------------------------|
| a) I found the two boys behind the door. | ١ هناك زجاجتان تحت المائدة. |
| b) My clothes are in the two bags. | ٢ مُنى عندها سيارة ودراجتان. |
| c) They are the two Saudi engineers. | ٣ وَجَدْتُ الولدين وراء الباب. |
| d) There are two bottles under the table. | ٤ أحمد مع والديه. |
| e) Mona has a car and two bikes. | ٥ هما المهندسان السعوديان. |
| f) Ahmed is with his parents. | ٦ ملايسي في الحقيبتين. |

Arabic verbs

In summary

- Arabic has a special dual ending used when referring to two items or two people.
- The ending ان -ān or ين -ayn is added to the noun: بيتان/baytān (two houses).
- The dual ending loses the final ن n when it is the first noun in an iḍāfa: بيتا الملك baytā l-malik (the king's two houses).

Arabic sentences can be either verbal or non-verbal. It is possible to express many basic concepts without using a verb:

We are in the bank.	نحن في البنك. naḥnu fī l-bank.
My mother is in school with my brother.	أمي في المدرسة مع أخي. ummī fī l-madrassa maʿa akhī.
This chair is very old.	هذا الكرسي قديم جداً. hāhdā l-kursī qadīm jiddan.
The ministers have a meeting tomorrow.	للوزراء اجتماع غداً. lil-wuzarā' ijtīmāʿ għadan.

To go beyond this type of elementary statement, however, you need to understand how the Arabic verb system works.

There are only two basic tenses in Arabic:

- الماضي al-mādī (past)
- المضارع al-muḍāriʿ (imperfect, used to express the present and future)

Grammatically, it makes sense to begin with the past tense as it is simpler.

Basic verbs in the past tense (singular)

Verbs are categorised into basic and derived forms. Basic verbs are 'no frills' verbs generally based around three root consonants (see Unit 1). Derived forms manipulate the root consonants, adding extra letters before and between them, to create different but related meanings. Units 14–16 will present basic verbs in the two tenses; Unit 17 will cover the derived forms.

The هو huwa (he/it masc.) past tense shows the verb in its simplest form:

He found the key. وَجَدَ المفتاح. wajada l-miftāḥ.

He opened the door. فَتَحَ الباب. fataḥa l-bāb.

The three root letters of the verb are each followed by a short fatha (a) vowel. If we remove the final -a and add the ending -tu, the verb will then refer to أنا anā (I):

I found the key. وَجَدْتُ المفتاح. wajadtu l-miftāḥ.

I opened the door. فَتَحْتُ الباب. fataḥtu l-bāb.

You do not have to use the pronoun أنا anā or هو huwa since the ending of the verb will tell you who is carrying out the action.

Here are all the singular endings for past verbs:

example	ending
(I opened) fataḥtu فَتَحْتُ	-tu تـ	أنا ا
(you m. opened) fataḥta فَتَحْتَ	-ta تـ	أنتَ (m.)
(you f. opened) fataḥti فَتَحْتِ	-ti تـ	أنتِ (f.)
(he/it opened) fataḥa فَتَحَ	-a ـ	هو / it
(she/it opened) fataḥat فَتَحَتْ	-at تـ	هي / it

You may have noticed that all the singular past verbs except فتح fataḥa are spelt the same – فتحت – and only distinguished by the short vowels that are not usually written in modern Arabic. When reading Arabic without vowels you will need to pay close attention to the context to decide on the meaning and pronunciation.

The common part of the past tense that appears before the individual endings is the 'stem'. This is usually vowelled with two fathas: فَتَحَ fataḥ (opened), وَجَدَ wajaḍ (found). However, sometimes the second vowel is a kasra: شَرِبَ sharib (drank), سَمِعَ samiʿ (heard).

Activity 1

Use one of the verbs in the box with the appropriate ending to fill in the gaps in the sentences, as in the example:

دَهَبَ dhahab (went) شَرِبَ sharib (drunk) فَتَحَ fataḥ (opened) جَلَسَ jalas (sat) وَجَدَ wajaḍ (found) سَمِعَ samiʿ (heard)

- ١ (أنا) دَهَبْتُ إلى البنك.
- ٢ (هي) على الكرسي.
- ٣ هل (أنت) المفتاح؟
- ٤ (هو) الكولا.
- ٥ (هي) إلى مكتبها.
- ٦ هل (أنت) الخبر* في الراديو؟
- ٧ (أنا) باب البيت بالمفتاح.
- ٨ (هو) قطعة تحت سيّارته.

*الخبر al-khabar = the news item

Word order

When the subject (the 'doer') of the verb is mentioned, it generally comes after the verb in Standard Arabic:
verb + subject + rest of sentence

Fatima opened the door. فَتَحَتْ فَاطِمَةُ الْبَابَ.
fataḥat faṭīma al-bāb.

The Prime Minister attended the exhibition. حَضَرَ رَئِيسُ الْوُزَرَاءِ الْمَعْرَاضَ.
ḥaḍara ra'īs al-wuzarā' al-ma'raḍ.

Activity 2

Sarah (سارة) is a teacher. What did she do yesterday (أمس ams)? Match the sentences with the pictures.

- جلست على كرسي...
بعد الدرس حضرت اجتماع المدرسين...
ذهبت الى الفصل.
وشربت فنجان شاي.
سارة مدرسة. ذهبت أمس إلى المدرسة...
وجدت سارة الكتب فوق المائدة.
ورجعت (returned) الى بيتها.
وفتحت باب المدرسة.

Activity 3

Now imagine you are Sarah and give an account of your day yesterday:

أنا مدرّسة. ذهبتُ أمس إلى المدرسة...

Basic verbs in the past tense (plural)

Here are the plural endings for the past tense. Remember that the plural forms are used only with people; non-human plurals take the feminine singular (هي hiya) form of the verb.

example	ending
(we opened) fataḥnā فَتَحْنَا	-nā نا	نحنُ we
(you m. pl. opened) fataḥtum فَتَحْتُمْ	-tum ثُم	أنتمُ (m. pl.) you
(you f. pl. opened) fataḥtunna فَتَحْتُنَّ	-tunna تَنَّ	أنتنَّ (f. pl.) you
(they m. opened) fataḥū فَتَحُوا	-ū وا	همُ (m.) they
(they f. opened) fataḥna فَتَحْنَ	-na نَ	هنَّ (f.) they

We sat on the steps.

جَلَسْنَا عَلَى السُّلَّمِ.
jalasna alā s-sullam.

They (m.) attended the meeting.

حَضَرُوا الْاجْتِمَاعَ.
ḥaḍarū l-ijtimāʿ.

You (m. pl.) heard the news yesterday.

سَمِعْتُمْ الْخَبَرَ أَمْسَ.
samiʿtum al-khabar ams.

Note that there is a silent l alif written after the w waw of the هم form of the verb: فَتَحُوا fataḥū. This is purely a spelling convention and is not pronounced. Don't confuse it with the extra (accusative) alif sometimes written on the end of nouns (e.g. وَلَدًا waladan – see Unit 9).

As with pronouns, masculine plural verbs are more common since all members of a group need to be female for the feminine plural to be used. Learn the masculine first; the feminine plurals shaded in the table are mainly for recognition. There are also special verb endings for the dual. However, these verb endings are relatively uncommon and so will be covered later in Unit 20.

Plural verbs in sentences

A quirk of Arabic grammar states that if a verb comes before a plural subject the verb will be singular, but if it comes after the subject it will be plural. This can mean a switch in mid-sentence:

ذَهَبَ الْأَصْحَابُ إِلَى النَّادِي وَشَرِبُوا كُولَا.

dhahaba l-aṣḥāb ilā n-nādī wa-sharibū kūlā.

The friends went (m. sing.) to the club and drank (m. pl.) cola.

However, the verb will still be feminine if the subject is feminine:

رَجَعَتِ الْبَنَاتُ إِلَى الْفَصْلِ وَجَلَسْنَ عَلَى الْكَرَاسِي.

rajaʿat al-banāt ilā l-faṣl wa-jalasna ʿala l-karāsī.

The girls returned (f. sing.) to the classroom and sat (f. pl.) on the chairs.

Unsurprisingly given their complexity, most of these rules are ignored in everyday speech and the masculine plural often used throughout, even for females. As a learner you can get away with the same when you speak, but should be prepared to recognise the more correct standard versions and eventually to use them yourself in written and formal spoken Arabic.

Questions

There is no special question form of the verb in Arabic. You can use the question marker هل hal or any of the other question words (see Unit 9) with the relevant part of the verb:

Did you go to the bank?	هل ذهبت إلى البنك؟ hal dhahabta ilā l-bank?
When did they go out?	متى خرجوا؟ mattā kharajū?
Where did Ahmed hear the news?	أين سمع أحمد الخبر؟ ayna samiʿa aḥmad al-khabar?

Activity 4

Make these sentences and questions plural, as in the example.

- ١ ذَهَبَ إِلَى المَصْنَعِ. ذَهَبُوا إِلَى المَصْنَعِ.
- ٢ خَرَجَ مِنَ البيتِ.
- ٣ جَلَسْتُ فِي المَكْتَبِ.
- ٤ هل سَمِعْتَ الخبر؟
- ٥ حَضَرْتُ الاجتماعَ.
- ٦ أين وَجَدَ المدرِّسُ مفتاح الباب؟
- ٧ ذَهَبْتُ إِلَى بيت أُخْتِي.
- ٨ فَتَحَ الولدُ الرُّجَاةَ وشَرِبَ الكولا.

Activity 5

Say these out loud in Arabic and then write them down.

- 1 I went to the bank yesterday.
- 2 She drank a cup of coffee.
- 3 Did you (masc. pl.) find the key?
- 4 We attended the meeting in the factory.
- 5 Ahmed heard the news in the restaurant (المَطْعَمُ al-maṭʿam).
- 6 They (masc.) sat down next to the teacher.

Case Notes

The subject ('doer') of a verb, if included, will have the nominative case ending. For the object ('receiver') of a verb, the accusative is used: -an for the indefinite (with the extra alif tanwīn ٱ if the noun does not end in ة) and -a for the definite:

The minister attended. حَضَرَ الوَزِيرُ اجتماعاً.
a meeting. ḥaḍara l-wazīru ijtīmāʿan.

He found the key.	وَجَدَ المِفْتَاحَ. wajada l-miftāḥa.
You (m. pl.) heard the news yesterday.	سَمِعْتُمُ الخَبَرَ أَمْسَ. samiʿtum al-khabara ams.

Remember that after a preposition, the genitive case endings are used (see Unit 8 Case Notes):

I went to the town.	ذَهَبْتُ إِلَى المَدِينَةِ. dhahabtu ilā l-madīnati.
---------------------	---

Optional Activity

Mark the case endings on these sentences and then read them out loud.

- ١ فَتَحْنَا البابَ.
- ٢ وَجَدْتُ الحَقِيبةَ.
- ٣ وَجَدَ الولدُ كتاباً فِي الشَّارِعِ.
- ٤ هل سَمِعْتَ الخبرَ فِي المَطْعَمِ؟
- ٥ حَضَرْتُ المدرِّسةَ اجتماعاً.
- ٦ شَرِبَ الرَّجُلُ فنجانَ قهوةٍ.

In summary

- There are two basic tenses in Arabic: الماضي (past) and المضارع (imperfect, used for present and future).
- The past tense of basic verbs is made up of a three-consonant stem with different endings showing the subject, e.g. فَتَحَ fataḥa (he opened), فَتَحْتُ fataḥtu (I opened), فَتَحُوا fataḥū (they opened).
- The verb often comes first in a sentence: فَتَحَتْ زَيْنَبُ الخزانةَ fataḥat zaynab al-khazāna (Zaynab opened the safe).
- Plural verbs are only used with people. Non-human plurals use the feminine singular (هي) verb.

Present/future verbs

The second Arabic verbal tense is the imperfect or المُضارع al-muḍāriʿ, used for describing present and future events.

Like the past tense, the imperfect verb changes depending on the subject ('I', 'you', 'he', etc.). However, in the imperfect tense these changes are prefixes (letters on the beginning of the root stem), sometimes combined with endings. For example, يَشْرَبُ yashrab, means 'he drinks'; this changes to تَشْرَبُ tashrab for 'she drinks' and يَشْرَبُونَ yashrabūna for 'they drink'. The common element is شَرَبَ shrab which can be described as the 'stem' of the present tense. In this case, the three root letters are sh/r/b and there is a fatha (a) after the second root letter.

Basic verbs in the present tense (singular)

Here are all the singular endings for present verbs, using the verb يَفْتَحُ yaftaḥ (open):

example	ending	prefix
(I open) أَفْتَحُ aftaḥ(u*)		أ- a-	أنا
(you m. open) تَفْتَحُ taftaḥ(u)		ت- ta-	أنتَ
(you f. open) تَفْتَحِينَ taftaḥīna	ينَ -īna	ت- ta-	أنتِ
(he/it opens) يَفْتَحُ yaftaḥ(u)		ي- ya-	هو
(she/it opens) تَفْتَحُ taftaḥ(u)		ت- ta-	هي

* The full pronunciation includes a final u, but this is not heard except in formal contexts.

Notice that the present verb for أنتَ (you masc.) is exactly the same as for هي (she/it).

The middle vowel in the present stem of basic verbs can change. The vowel can be:

- fatha, as in يَفْتَحُ yaftaḥ (open),
- kasra, as in يَغْسِلُ yaghsil (wash), or
- damma, as in يَسْكُنُ yaskun (live).

Every day she opens the safe. كُلَّ يَوْمٍ تَفْتَحُ الخزانة.
kull yawm taftaḥ al-khazāna.

Do you (m.) go to school by car? هل تَذْهَبُ إلى المدرسة بالسيارة؟ hal tadh-hab ilā l-madrasa bis-sayyāra?

I wash my face in the morning. أَغْسِلُ وَجْهِي صباحاً.
aghsil wajhī ṣabāḥan.

Where does he live? أَيْنَ يَسْكُنُ؟ ayna yaskun?

Activity 1

Change these sentences to match the subject in brackets, as in the example.

١ (هو) يَغْسِلُ وجهه صباحاً. (هي)

تَغْسِلُ وجهها صباحاً.

٢ (أنا) أَسْكُنُ في الكويت. (هو)

٣ تَشْرَبُ كولا؟ (أنت)

٤ (هو) يَسْكُنُ مَعَ أمّه. (أنا)

٥ متى تَخْرُجُ من البيت؟ (أنت)

٦ يَذْهَبُ أنور إلى المكتب بالسيارة. (زينب)

Activity 2

Read about Nadia's routine below and fill in the gaps with one of the verbs from the box.

تَشْرَبُ (drinks) تَأْكُلُ (eats) تَذْهَبُ (goes) تَلْعَبُ (plays)

تَغْسِلُ (washes) تَرْجِعُ (returns) تَسْكُنُ (lives) تَجْلِسُ (sits)

نادية في القاهرة. كل يوم
و ... طبق فول*. بعد ذلك
بالأتوبيس و ... في الفصل.
إلى ...

البيت الساعة الثالثة.

زجاجة كولا

و ... مع

أصحابها في

الحديقة.

* طبق فول = ṭabaq fūl

 حديقة = ḥadīqa

Now imagine you are Nadia and change the routine to أنا anā (I). Start like this:

أَسْكُنُ في القاهرة ...

Basic verbs in the present tense (plural)

Here is the plural for present verbs. The shaded feminine plural is mainly for recognition. Learn the masculine plural first.

example	ending	prefix
(we open) naftaḥ(u) نَفْتَحُ	نا- نَ	نحنُ
(you m. pl. open) taftaḥūna تَفْتَحُونَ	ونَ -ūna	أنتمُ
(you f. pl. open) taftaḥna تَفْتَحْنَ	نَ -na	أنتنَّ
(they m. open) yaftaḥūna يَفْتَحُونَ	ونَ -ūna	همُ
(they f. open) yaftaḥna يَفْتَحْنَ	نَ -na	هنَّ

Notice that the prefix for 'you' verbs is always تَ and the prefix for 'they' is يَ. The ending shows the gender and number: ونَ -ūna for masculine plural and نَ -na for feminine plural.

We attend a meeting every Thursday. نحضر اجتماعاً كلَّ يومٍ خميس. naḥḍur ijtīmāʿan kull yawm khamīs.

They (masc.) live in Baghdad. يَسْكُنُونَ في بغداد. yaskunūna fī l-baghdād.

Do you (masc. pl.) drink coffee in the morning? هل تشربون قهوة صباحاً؟ hal tashrabūna qahwa ṣabāḥan?

On Friday my friends go to the restaurant and eat pizza. يوم الجمعة يذهب أصحابي إلى المطعم ويأكلون بيتزا. yawm il-jumʿa yadh-hab aṣḥābī ilā l-maṭʿam wa-ya'kulūna bītza.

Activity 3

Make these sentences plural, as in the example. Remember:
1 If the verb comes before the subject it will be singular.
2 Use a feminine singular verb (i.e. ت ta-) for non-human plurals.

- ١ يَغْسِلُ السَّيَّارَةَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ. يَغْسِلُونَ السَّيَّارَةَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ.
- ٢ أَسْكُنُ فِي بَغْدَادَ.
- ٣ هَلْ تَذْهَبُ إِلَى الْبَنْكِ؟
- ٤ يَذْهَبُ الْوَلَدُ إِلَى الْحَدِيقَةِ وَيَلْعَبُ تَنِيسَ.
- ٥ الْكَلْبُ يَفْتَحُ الْبَابَ.
- ٦ أَرْجِعْ مِنَ الْمَكْتَبِ وَأَشْرَبْ فَنْجَانَ شَايَ.

Activity 4

Complete these sentences describing what these people do and where they work. Use the verb يَعْمَلُ ya'mal (to work) with the correct prefixes and endings. The first is an example.

هو مدرّس ويعمل في مدرسة.

هي

هو

هم

هو طبّاخ

مخبّن.

هم

مُسْتَشْفَى.

هُنَّ

Talking about the future

The imperfect is also used for talking about the future, often preceded by the future indicators سَ sa- or سوف sawfa:

We're going to the museum today. سَنَذْهَبُ إِلَى الْمَتْحَفِ الْيَوْمَ.
sa-nadh-hab ilā l-matḥaf al-yawm.

Ahmad is going to play tennis with Nadya. سَوْفَ يَلْعَبُ أَحْمَدُ التَّنِيسَ مَعَ نَادِيَا.
sawfa yal'ab aḥmad tanis ma'ca nādiya.

Attached pronouns with verbs

The pronouns used on the end of nouns to describe possession, e.g. بيتها bayt(u)hā (her house), can also be used with verbs. (The vowels in brackets are pronounced in more formal Arabic.)

يَغْسِلُهَا يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ.	←	يَغْسِلُ السَّيَّارَةَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ.
yaghsil(u)hā yawm al-jum'a.	←	yaghsil as-sayyāra yawm al-jum'a.
He washes it on Friday.	←	He washes the car on Friday.
سَأَشْرِبُهُ فِي الْمَسَاءِ.	←	سَأَشْرَبُ الْعَصِيرَ فِي الْمَسَاءِ.
sa-ashrabuh(u) fi l-masā'.	←	sa-ashrab al-عَاشِرَ fi l-masā'.
I'll drink it in the evening.	←	I'll drink the juice in the evening.
سَمِعْنَاهُمْ فِي الْحَدِيقَةِ.	←	سَمِعْنَا الْأَطْفَالَ فِي الْحَدِيقَةِ.
We heard them in the park.	←	We heard the children in the park.

The ending -ī (my) changes to -nī (me) when attached to a verb:

هل سَمِعْتَنِي فِي الرَّادِيُو؟	هل سَمِعْتَنِي فِي الرَّادِيُو؟
Did you hear me on the radio (lit. 'in the radio')?	hal samiḡ tanī fi r-rādyū?

Activity 5

Change these sentences using attached pronouns, as in the example.

١ وَجَدْنَا الْقِطَّةَ تَحْتَ الْكَرْسِيِّ. وَجَدْنَاهَا تَحْتَ الْكَرْسِيِّ.

٢ هل وجدت المفتاح؟

٣ سوف أشرب فنجان شاي.

٤ غسّلت فاطمة الزجاجات.

٥ سمعت الخبر في الراديو.

٦ كل يوم يحضرون اجتماعاً.

٧ سمعنا الأولاد في الشارع.

٨ سنفتح الباب بعد ساعة (after an hour).

Notes about verbs in spoken Arabic

In general everyday spoken Arabic drops the final short vowels and ن na on the end of verbs. This means that تشربين tashrabīna (you fem. drink) becomes tashrabī, and يشربون yashrabūna (they drink) becomes yashrabū. In the past tense فتح fataḥa (he opened) becomes fataḥ; فتحتُ fataḥtu (I opened) and فتحتُ fataḥta (you, masc. opened) both become fataḥt. However, فتحتُ fataḥti (you fem. opened) does retain the -i ending.

The masculine plural is generally employed for all plural or dual subjects in spoken Arabic, meaning the feminine plural and dual verbs are only really a feature of Standard Arabic.

In summary

- المَضارع al-muḍāriʿ (the imperfect) is used to describe both present and future events.
- The imperfect of basic verbs is formed with different prefixes and endings around a three-consonant stem, e.g. يَفْتَحُ yaftaḥ (he opens), أَفْتَحُ aftaḥ (I open), يَفْتَحُونَ yaftaḥūna (they open).
- The future indicators سَ sa- or سوف sawfa are often added before an imperfect verb when describing future events: سأذهب sa-ashrab (I'll drink), سوف نخرج sawfa nakhruj (we'll go out)..
- Attached pronouns can be added to verbs as well as nouns, e.g. سَمِعْنَاهُمْ samiḡ nāhum (we heard them).

unit 16 Irregular verbs

Activity 1

Change these past tense sentences to refer to everyday activities, as in the example:

- ١ وجدنا قِطَّةً في الشارع. كلَّ يوم نَجِدُ قِطَّةً في الشارع.
- ٢ وَصَلْتُ إلى المكتب صباحاً.
- ٣ وَصَفْتُ نادبة رحلتها (her trip) إلى باريس.
- ٤ وَجَدُوا المِفْتَاحَ على المائدة.
- ٥ وَزَنَ الخَبَازُ العَجِين (the dough).
- ٦ وَصَلَ إلى وسط المدينة بالقطار.

Hollow verbs

Hollow verbs have و wāw or ي yā as the second root letter. They are called 'hollow' because the و wāw or ي yā in the middle often changes into a vowel. This can be a long vowel (ā, ū, ī) or a short vowel (a, u, i). This category includes some common verbs.

There are two main types of hollow verb, depending on the middle root letter, and these are shown below. The less common feminine plurals are shown in grey. Leave these until after you are familiar with the rest of the parts of the verb.

Hollow verbs with و wāw: قالَ/يَقُولُ (to say)

imperfect	past
أَقُولُ aqūl	قُلْتُ qultu	أنا ا
تَقُولُ taqūl	قُلْتَ qulta	أنتَ (m.)
تَقُولِينَ taqūlina	قُلْتِ qulti	أنتِ (f.)
يَقُولُ yaqūl	قَالَ qāla	هو/it
تَقُولُ taqūl	قَالَتْ qālat	هي/she/it
نَقُولُ naqūl	قُلْنَا qulnā	نحن we
تَقُولُونَ taqūlūna	قُلْتُمْ qultum	أنتم (m. pl.)
تَقُلْنَ taqulna	قُلْتُنَّ qultunna	أنتنَّ (f. pl.)
يَقُولُونَ yaqūlūna	قَالُوا qālū	هم (m.)
يَقُلْنَ yaqulna	قُلْنَ qulna	هنَّ (f.)

Most irregularities in Arabic verbs occur when one of the three root consonants of the verb is either و wāw or ي yā. These two letters are considered 'weak', effectively meaning they can change into vowels in certain word patterns and sometimes drop out altogether.

Other irregularities come about when a verb is 'doubled', having the same second and third root letter, or has hamza (ء) as one of the root consonants.

Weak verbs

Weak verbs fall into three categories:

- و wāw or ي yā as first root letter (assimilated verbs)
- و wāw or ي yā as middle root letter (hollow verbs)
- و wāw or ي yā as final root letter (defective verbs)

Assimilated verbs

Most assimilated verbs in common circulation have و wāw rather than ي yā as the first root letter. These verbs are relatively simple to remember and are irregular only in the imperfect tense, where the و wāw drops out altogether:

- وَجَدَ (he found) wajada ← يَجِدُ (he finds) yajid
- وَصَلْنَا (we arrived) waṣalnā ← نَصِلُ (we arrive) naṣil
- وَصَفَوْا (they described) waṣafū ← يَصِفُونَ (they describe) yaṣifūna
- وَزَنَتْ (she weighed) wazanat ← تَزِنُ (she weighs) tazin

Hollow verbs with يā: طَارَ/يَطِيرُ (to fly)

imperfect	past
أَطِيرُ atīr	طَرْتُ tirtu	أنا I
تَطِيرُ taṭīr	طَرْتَ tirta	أنتَ (m.) you (m.)
تَطِيرِينَ taṭīrīna	طَرْتِ tirti	أنتِ (f.) you (f.)
يَطِيرُ yaṭīr	طَارَ tāra	هو/it he/it
تَطِيرُ taṭīr	طَارَتْ tārat	هي/it she/it
نَطِيرُ naṭīr	طَرْنَا ṭirna	نحنُ we
تَطِيرُونَ taṭīrūna	طَرْتُمْ ṭirtum	أنتمُ (m. pl.) you (m. pl.)
تَطِيرْنَ taṭīrna	طَرْتُنَّ ṭirtunna	أنتنَّ (f. pl.) you (f. pl.)
يَطِيرُونَ yaṭīrūna	طَارُوا tāru	همُ (m.) they (m.)
يَطِيرْنَ yaṭīrna	طَارْنَ ṭirna	هنَّ (f.) they (f.)

With a few exceptions, hollow verbs fit into one of the two patterns shown above. Note:

- the past verb for هو, هي and هم has a long ā in the middle for both types of hollow verb
- the other past verbs have u or i in the middle
- the imperfect verb is characterised by a long ū for verbs with wāw as middle root letter and a long ī for those with yā as middle root letter.

We will fly to London next week. سَنَطِيرُ إِلَى لُنْدُنِ الْأَسْبُوعِ الْقَادِمِ.
sa-naṭīr ilā lundun al-usbūʿ al-qādim.

I said to my husband 'Let's go'. قُلْتُ لِزَوْجِي «هَيَا بِنَا!» qultu l-zawjī 'hayā binā!'

He sold his ticket to Zaynab. بَاعَ تَذَكِيرَتَهُ لِزَيْنَبَ.
bāʿa tadhkiratuh li-zaynab.

They return from school by bus. يَعُودُونَ مِنَ الْمَدْرَسَةِ بِالْبَاصِ.
yaʿūdūna min al-madrassa bil-bāṣ.

Activity 2

Choose one of the hollow verbs in the box to fill the gap in each sentence. Make sure you change the verb to match the subject.

Note these time phrases which will show which tense you should be using:

أَمْسَ yesterday
غَدًا tomorrow
كُلَّ يَوْمٍ every day
السَّنَةُ الْقَادِمَةُ next year
الشَّهْرُ الْمَاضِي last month

(to visit) زَارَ/يَزُورُ (to return) عَادَ/يَعُودُ (to fly) طَارَ/يَطِيرُ
(to win) فَازَ/يَفُوزُ (to sell) بَاعَ/يَبِيعُ (to say) قَالَ/يَقُولُ

- أنا) عُدْتُ من القاهرة أمس.
- نحن) سَ أَمْنَا فِي الْمُسْتَشْفَى غَدًا.
- هل أنت) تَذَكَّرْتُكَ عَلَى الْإِنْتَرْنَتِ أَمْسَ؟
- كُلَّ يَوْمٍ (هم) التَّفَاحَ (apples) فِي السُّوقِ.
- أَمْسَ (هي) «سَأُزَوِّرُكُمْ غَدًا».
- هو) سَيَّارَتُهُ لَصَدِيقِهِ الشَّهْرَ الْمَاضِي.
- كُلَّ يَوْمٍ الطَّائِرَةُ فَوْقَ بَيْتِنَا.
- دِينَا بِكَأْسِ التَّنِيسِ (tennis cup) فِي الشَّهْرِ الْمَاضِي.

An important hollow verb is كان/يَكُونُ (to be). Although many statements in the present don't include the verb 'to be', it is needed in the past and the future:

I am in the bank today.

أنا في البنك اليوم.
anā fī l-bank al-yawm.

I was in the museum yesterday.

كُنْتُ في المتحف أمس.
kuntu fī l-mathḥaf ams.

I'll be in the office tomorrow.

سَأَكُونُ في المكتب غداً.
sa-akūn fī l-maktab ghadan.

The present tense of the verb 'to be' is used following li- (in order to), an (that), and other similar words:

We went to the party in order to be with our friends.

دَهَبْنَا إلى الحفلة لِنَكُونُ مَعَ أصحابنا.
dhahabnā ilā al-ḥafla li-nakūn maʿa aṣḥābnā.

The fish has to be fresh.
(It is necessary that the fish is fresh.)

يَجِبُ أَنْ يَكُونَ السَّمَكُ طازِجاً.*
yajib an yakūn as-samak ṭāzijan.

* the extra alif is added after the verb يكون yakūn (see Case Notes Unit 14)

Activity 3

Change these sentences to refer to the past, as in the example.

١ أنا في المصنع. ← كُنْتُ في المصنع.

٢ نَحْنُ في المدرسة. ←

٣ أختي مُقيمة (resident) في السعودية. ←

٤ هم في المدرسة. ←

٥ هل أنت في بيتك؟ ←

Now write them again in the future, e.g.:

١ سَأَكُونُ في المصنع.

Activity 4

Read this passage where Hajj Khayri (الحاج خيري) is telling his grandchildren (أحفاد) why he thinks the internet has made life easier. (ḥājj is a term of respect for someone who has been on the pilgrimage to Mecca.)

قال الحاج خيري لأحفاده...

«شبكة الانترنت هي سوق لِمَنْ يشتري (buys) أو يبيع أي شيء وكل شيء. مُنْذُ سَنَوَاتٍ، دَهَبْتُ لِشِرَاءِ (to buy) تَذَكُّرَة

أطير بها إلى لَنْدَنَ لِأُزَوِّرَ أَخِي شَلْبِي المقيم هناك. كان

مكتب شركة الطيران بعيداً في وسط المدينة. دَفَعْنَا (we paid)

ثَمَنَ التذكرة ثم قالوا لنا: حِينَ (when) تعودون بعد ثلاثة

أيام سَتَكُونُ التذكرة مَوْجُودَةً.»

ضَحِكَ (laughed) الأولاد وهم يقولون «ها! ها! ثلاثة أيام

لشراء تذكرة!»

- 1 Where did Hajj Khayri want to travel a few years ago?
- 2 Who did he want to visit there?
- 3 Where did he have to go to buy the ticket?
- 4 How long did they tell him he would have to wait before his ticket was available?
- 5 Why do you think the children find this funny?

Now underline all the examples of hollow verbs you can find in the passage.

Defective verbs

Defective verbs have و wāw or ي yā as the final root letter. There are several different types, but the most common feature is a long vowel in place of the third root letter. Here are some examples:

جارى/يجرى jarā/yajrī (to run)

دعا/يدعو daʿā/yadʿū (to invite)

مشى/يمشي mashā/yamshī (to walk)

نسى/ينسى nasiya/yansā (to forget)

رمى/يرمي ramā/yarmī (to throw)

شكا/يشكو shakā/yashkū (to complain)

The detailed rules for how to spell and form defective verbs are somewhat complicated and need to be learnt individually by consulting a comprehensive Arabic grammar or verb reference. However, as a rule of thumb the imperfect is largely consistent, whereas the the final long ā vowel in the past will often turn into aw or ay before an ending which begins with a consonant:

شكا (he complained) shakā ← شكونا shakawnā (we complained)

رمى (he threw) ramā ← رميت ramaytu (I threw)

مشى (he walked) mashā ← مشيتُم mashaytum (you pl. walked)

Other irregular verbs

Other irregularities arise from:

- the second and third root consonants being the same letter (doubled verbs)
- one of the roots being hamza (ء)

Doubled verbs

Doubled verbs sometimes combine the second and third root letters with a shadda (ّ), e.g. رَدَّ radda (he answered), and sometimes separate them, e.g. رَدَدْتُ radadtu (I answered). The rule determining this is:

- third root letter followed directly by vowel (long or short) = combined
- third root letter not followed directly by vowel = separate

If you take any part of the present/future or past verb tenses and apply the rule above, you can work out how to form the appropriate double verb. For example:

result	subject	tense	root
رَدَدْنَا radadnā	نحن	الماضي	(answer) د / د / د
دَلَّلْتُ dallat	هي	الماضي	(show/prove) ل / ل / ل
يَظُنُّ yazunn(u*)	هو	المضارع	(think) ن / ن / ن
تَشْكُونُ tashukkūna	أنتم	المضارع	(doubt) ك / ك / ك

* For the purposes of deciding whether or not to write the doubled root together, any final u in the imperfect المضارع is taken into account (see Unit 15)

The result of applying this rule is:

- doubled verbs in the imperfect المضارع are almost always written with a shadda (ّ)
- doubled verbs in the past الماضي are written with a shadda for هو, هي and هم but with separate letters for the other subjects

Activity 5

Complete this chart of doubled verbs, as in the example.

result	subject	tense	root
رَدَدْتُ (radadtu)	أنا	الماضي	(answer) د / د / د
	أنا	المضارع	(doubt) ك / ك / ك
	أنتِ	المضارع	(show/prove) ل / ل / ل
	نحن	المضارع	(think) ن / ن / ن

ع / د / د	(count)	الماضي	أنا
م / د / د	(stretch)	الماضي	هي
ض / م / م	(join)	الماضي	هم

Activity 6

Now use six of the verbs you formed in Activity 5 to fill the gaps in this picture story about an air hostess (مُضيفة muḍīfa) and her passengers (رُكَّاب rukkāb), as in the example. Don't worry about understanding every word, just try to get the gist and work out which verb might fit in the gap.

مَدَّت المُضيفة «تَفَضَّلْ!»
 أنا عليها «أسف. أنا طَلَبْتُ (I ordered) النباتاتين وهم ثلاثة سندوتش الدجاج.» وأنت لست منهم. تَفَضَّلْ
 أنا نباتي (vegetarian)! سندوتش الدجاج!

«يا أنسة. أنا لا
 في ذاكرتي (my memory).»
 قال راكِب «ما كلِّ هذا؟
 أنا نباتي، لا أكل اللحم.»
 كُنَّا أنك رجل عاقل! لماذا لا تأكل الدجاج يا أخي؟
 وقف الركَّاب و أصواتهم (their voices) إليه
 وقالوا «الدجاج مفيد لك!
 كلنا نأكل الدجاج!»

Verbs with hamza as root letter

It is possible for verbs to have hamza (ء) as one of the root letters. These verbs are not strictly speaking irregular, but there are some aspects which need clarification:

- 1 When a verb has hamza as the first root letter, e.g. أَخَذَ/يَأْخُذُ a'khaḍha/ya'khudh (to take), the أنا āna part of the imperfect is written with a special madda sign above the alif (آ). This is pronounced as long ā:

أ + أَخْذُ = آخُذُ (I take) ākhudh

أ + أَكُلُ = آكُلُ (I eat) ākul

- 2 The hamza may be written in a number of different ways:

- on an alif: أ , e.g. يَأْخُذُ ya'khudh (he takes)
- on a wāw: و , e.g. نَبْطُؤُ nabṭu' (we slow down)
- on a yā with no dots: ئ / ي , e.g. سَئِمَ sa'ima (he loathed)

You will begin to get a feel for how to spell hamza as you become more familiar with individual examples.

Very irregular verbs

There are a few verbs which display more than one irregular feature (e.g. weak and have hamza as a root letter), and these can behave unpredictably. Common examples are the verbs 'to see': جَاءَ/يَجِيءُ jā'a/yajī', and 'to come': رَأَى/يَرَى ra'ā/yarā.

هل تريد أن ترى الأهرام؟ hal turid an tarā al-ahrām?

أين رأت الفأر؟
 ayna ra'at al-fa'r?

نجيء هنا كل يوم.
 najī' hunā kull yawm.

جئت أمس ولكنني لم أجد أحداً.
 ji'tu ams wa-lākinnī lam ajid aḥadan.

I came yesterday but I didn't find anyone.

Activity 7

With the help of the glossary read this passage about what Bashir (بشير) does every day. Decide if the sentences below are true or false. Remember to read for gist and not worry about understanding every word.

- 1 Bashir is Lebanese.
- 2 He's a football coach.
- 3 In the past he was an accountant in a bank.
- 4 Every morning he drinks a cup of coffee ...
- 5 ... and eats a sandwich.
- 6 He takes the bus to the tennis club.
- 7 He only teaches tennis to girls.
- 8 He teaches them how to hold their rackets.
- 9 In the evening he sometimes visits his mother.
- 10 Sometimes he plays chess with his friends.

بشير مُدَرِّب التَّنِيس في النادي، وهو من بيروت في لبنان. في الماضي كان مهندساً في مصنع ولكنه الآن يرى أن حياة المدرب أفضل. صباح كل يوم، يشرب بشير فنجان شاي، ويأكل سندويتش جبنة ثم يأخذ الباص إلى نادي التنس. بشير يصف للأولاد والبنات كيف يمسون المضارب ويردون الكرة فوق الشبكة، ويقول «عينك على الكرة دائماً!». في المساء يعود بشير إلى بيته وأحياناً يزور أخته أو يلعب الشطرنج مع أصحابه.

life = ḥiyā	حياة	coach = mudarrib	مُدَرِّب
rackets = maḍārib	مَضَارِب	to hold = yamsik	يَمْسِك
ball = kura	كُرَة	better = afḍal	أَفْضَل
chess = ash-shaṭaranj	الشَطْرَنْج	sometimes = aḥyānan	أحياناً

Now imagine you are Bashir and change the passage to أنا anā. Begin like this:

أنا مُدَرِّب التَّنِيس في النادي...

In summary

- Irregularities in Arabic verbs usually stem from one of the three root consonants being و wāw or ي yā ('weak' letters).
- Assimilated verbs have a weak first root (almost always و wāw) and are mainly regular, except that the initial و wāw drops out in the imperfect: وصل/يصل waṣala/yaṣil (to arrive).
- Hollow verbs have a weak second root and are characterised by a long or short vowel in the middle, e.g. قال/يقول qāla/yaqūl (to say); طار/يطير ṭāra/yaṭīr (to fly).
- Defective verbs have a weak third root and are characterised by a long vowel or diphthong (ay or aw) in place of the third root consonant, e.g. مشى/يمشي mashā/yamshī (to walk).
- Other irregularities are caused by a doubled second and third root letter, e.g. رد/يرد radda/yarudd (to answer), or by hamza (ء) being one of the root letters, e.g. أكل/يأكل 'akala/ya'kul (to answer).

Introduction

The Arabic root system shows itself most clearly through the forms of the verb. By adding additional letters before and between the three root letters different, but related, meanings are created. For example, دَرَسَ darasa means 'he learnt', but when the middle root letter is doubled to create دَرَّسَ darrasa the meaning changes to 'he taught'. In a similar way كَتَبُوا katabū means 'they wrote'; the addition of an alif after the first root letter produces كَاتَبُوا kātabū 'they corresponded with'; the further addition of ta in front of the first root produces تَكَاتَبُوا takātabū 'they corresponded with each other'.

The derived forms are referred to by Arabists as Form II, Form III, etc. (Form I being the basic verb form). Native speakers will usually refer to them in the المضارع (imperfect) form using the root فعل (to do).

There are nine derived forms altogether in modern Arabic (II–X), but Form IX is rare. Each form has a past and imperfect pattern connected with it, for example the doubling of the middle root letter in دَرَّسَ darrasa is Form II, whereas the addition of an alif after the first root letter in كَاتَبُوا kātabū is Form III. It is important to realise that although the derived forms add letters before and between the root consonants, the prefixes and endings which show the subject of the verb remain the same as they are for the basic verbs: دَرَّسَ darrasa 'he taught'; دَرَّسْتُ darrastu 'I taught'; دَرَّسْنَا darrasnā 'we taught'; etc.

In theory every root could be put into all ten forms, but in practice an individual root will have only particular derived forms in common circulation. This unit will give you an overview of the forms and present some useful examples. Don't expect to master all the detail straight away. As you begin to feel more comfortable with the system of derived forms and their related meanings, you will find they are a helpful way of expanding your vocabulary.

The eight commonly used derived forms fall into three groups which share characteristics:

- Forms II, III and IV
- Forms V and VI
- Forms VII, VIII and X

Each derived form has meaning patterns connected to it.

Although these meaning patterns will not always be obvious in individual derived verbs, they are a good general guide and can help you to guess at the meaning of unknown vocabulary.

Forms II, III and IV

- Form II doubles the middle root letter
- Form III adds a long ā after the first root letter
- Form IV adds a short a (أ) before the first root letter in the past tense

Forms II, III and IV are all vowelised with fathas in the past tense and with the sequence damma/(fatha)/kasra in the imperfect.

This table shows the patterns using the root letters فعل:

example	المضارع	الماضي
(to heat) سَخَّنَ / يُسَخِّنُ	يُفَعِّلُ faʿʿil	فَعَّلَ faʿʿala	II
(to travel) سَافَرَ / يُسَافِرُ	يُفَاعِلُ yufāʿil	فَاعَلَ fāʿala	III
(to take out) أَخْرَجَ / يُخْرِجُ	يُفْعِلُ yufʿil	أَفْعَلَ afʿala	IV

- Form II is often used for actions carried out on someone/something else:
يُجَهِّزُ yujahhiz = 'to make something ready', or 'to prepare' (basic form = يَجْهِزُ yajhiz 'to be ready')
- It can also intensify the meaning:
يُكْسِرُ yukassir = 'to break something into pieces', or 'to smash' (basic form = يَكْسِرُ yaksir 'to break')

- Form III can carry the meaning of trying to perform an action:
يُسَابِقُ yusābiq = 'to try to be in front', or 'to race against'
(basic form = يَسْبِقُ yasbiq 'to be in front/to precede')
Or of doing something with someone else:
يُحَادِثُ yuḥādith = 'to talk to someone', or 'to converse with'
- Form IV, like Form II, is used for actions carried out on someone/something else, يُجْلِسُ yujlis = 'to cause someone to sit down', or 'to seat'
(basic form = يَجْلِسُ yajlis 'to sit down')

We heat the bread in the oven.

نُسَخِّنُ الخُبْزَ فِي الْفُرْنِ.
nusakhkhin al-khubz fī l-furn.

They travelled to Jordan
by boat.

سَافَرُوا إِلَى الْأُرْدُنِّ بِالْمَرْكَبِ.
sāfarū ilā l-urduḥ bil-markib.

The girl took out the trash.

أَخْرَجَتِ الْبِنْتُ الزُّبَالَ.
akhrajat al-bint az-zubāla.

Note that the vowelling of derived forms does not vary as it does with basic verbs. For example, a Form II verb in the imperfect will always be vowelled يُفَعِّلُ yufaʿal, and a Form IV verb in the past tense will always be vowelled أَفَعَّلَ afʿala.

Activity 1

Look at these derived verbs and decide if they are Form II, III or IV, as in the example.

Form II	يُنْظَفُ / نَظَّفَ	yunazzif / nazzaḥ	to clean
	يُجْلَسُ / أَجْلَسَ	yujlis / ajlasa	to seat
	يُحَادِثُ / حَدَّثَ	yuḥādith / ḥadatha	to converse with
	يُجَهِّزُ / جَهَّزَ	yujahhiz / jahhaza	to prepare
	يُحَاوِلُ / حَاوَلَ	yuḥāwil / ḥāwala	to try
	يُخَبِّرُ / أَخْبَرَ	yukhbir / akhbara	to inform
	يُصَلِّحُ / صَلَحَ	yusallih / sallaha	to repair
	يُسَابِقُ / سَابَقَ	yusābiq / sābaqa	to race
	يُكْسِرُ / كَسَرَ	yukassir / kassara	to smash

Activity 2

Match the Arabic sentences to the English, trying to guess at the meaning of the verbs from words you already know with the same root letters.

- ١ هل تُصَوِّرُ الْحَيَوَانَاتَ؟ a) Bashir coaches the children in the club.
- ٢ يُسَافِرُونَ إِلَى فَرَنْسَا بِالطَّائِرَةِ. b) We feed the birds.
- ٣ يُدَرِّبُ بِشِيرَ الْأَوْلَادِ فِي النَّادِي. c) They travel to France by airplane.
- ٤ تُحْضِرُ الْمَمْرُضَةَ الدَّوَاءَ. d) I treat guests as my friends.
- ٥ أَعْمَلُ الضِّيُوفَ كَأَصْحَابِي. e) Do you photograph animals?
- ٦ نُوَكِّلُ الطُّيُورَ. f) The nurse brings the medicine.

Activity 3

Put the sentences in Activity 2 into the past, for example:

١ هل صَوَّرْتَ الْحَيَوَانَاتَ؟ hal sawwarta l-ḥayawānāt?

(Did you [m.] photograph animals?)

Forms V and VI

example	المضارع	الماضي
تَحَدَّثُ / يَتَحَدَّثُ (to speak)	يَتَفَعَّلُ	تَفَعَّلَ
تَعَاوَنُ / يَتَعَاوَنُ (to cooperate)	يَتَفَاعَلُ	تَفَاعَلَ

Forms V and VI both add ta (تَ) before the first root letter. In the past tense, Form V = ta (تَ) + Form II; Form VI = ta (تَ) + Form III. In the imperfect tense, Forms V and VI are vowelled throughout with fathas (a).

- Form VI often carries the meaning of doing something together as a group:
يَتَعَاوَنُ yataʿāwan = 'to help each other', or 'to cooperate' (root: عَوَن = help/aid)
- Form V tends to be intransitive (i.e. actions not carried out on something/someone else).

Do you speak Arabic?

هل تَتَحَدَّثُ الْعَرَبِيَّةُ؟ hal tataḥaddath al-ʿarabiyya?

The ministers met for two days and cooperated on the peace plan.

تَقَابَلَ الْوُزَرَاءُ لِمُدَّةِ يَوْمَيْنِ وَتَعَاوَنُوا فِي خِطَّةِ السَّلَامِ.
taqābala l-wuzarā' li-muddat yawmayn wa-taʿāwanū fī khiṭṭat is-salām.

Activity 4

Read this story about Mr Jones (السَيِّد جُونز) and underline all the Form V and VI verbs you can see.

السَيِّد جُونز من ويلز ويحاول أن يَتَعَلَّمَ الْعَرَبِيَّةَ. مُسْتَوَاهُ
(his level) يَتَقَدَّمُ مع كلِّ دَرَسٍ لِأَنَّهُ (because he) يحاول أن

يَتَذَكَّرُ الْكَلِمَاتِ
الْعَرَبِيَّةَ. حِينَ
يَتَقَابَلُ النَّاسَ فِي
الشارع صباحاً،

يَتَبَادَلُونَ التَّحِيَّةَ (greetings) والسلام ويقولون: «صباح
الخير!» سَأَلَ السَيِّد جُونز المَدْرَسَ عَنِ الرَّدِّ الْمُنَاسِبِ (appropriate) وَتَدَرَّبَ عَلَى قَوْلِ «صباح النور!» لِمُدَّةِ يَوْمَيْنِ.

Now try to guess the meaning of the verbs you underlined from the context. Write the verbs in the present and past next to the English below, as in the example.

learn	تَعَلَّمَ / يَتَعَلَّمُ	meet up	practise
remember	progress	exchange

Activity 5

Change these sentences according to the subject in brackets, as in the example.

١ يُحَاوِلُ أَنْ يَتَعَلَّمَ الْعَرَبِيَّةَ. (هي)
تَحَاوِلُ أَنْ تَتَعَلَّمَ الْعَرَبِيَّةَ.

٢ تَذَكَّرَ السَيِّدُ جُونزَ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْعَرَبِيَّةَ. (أنا)

٣ حِينَ يَتَقَابَلُ النَّاسَ، يَتَبَادَلُونَ التَّحِيَّةَ. (نحن)

٤ يَقُولُونَ: «صباح الخير». (أنت)

٥ سَأَلَ عَنِ الرَّدِّ الْمُنَاسِبِ. (هم)

٦ تَدَرَّبَ عَلَى قَوْلِ «صباح النور». (أنت)

Forms VII, VIII and X

example	المضارع	الماضي
(to be broken) انكسر / يَنْكَسِرُ	yanfaʿil	infaʿala VII
(to meet) اجتمع / يَجْتَمِعُ	yaftaʿil	iftaʿala VIII
(to enquire) استعلم / يَسْتَعْلِمُ	yastafʿil	istafʿala X

Forms VII, VIII and X all start with i (ي) in the past tense and are all vowelised with two fathas (a) and a kasra (i) in the imperfect. Form VII also adds n (ن) before the first root letter; Form VIII adds ta (ت) after the first root letter; and Form X adds sta (سـت) before the first root letter.

- Form VII is often passive:

ينكسر/انكسر inkasara/yankasir = 'to be broken'

(يكسر/كسر kasara/yaksir = to break)

- Form VIII is a common verbal form. However, the meaning patterns are more diverse and difficult to pin down. It can have a reflexive meaning (performing an action on oneself):

اجتمع/يجمع ijtaʿama/yajtaʿim = 'to collect yourselves' or

'to meet up' (جمع/يجمع jamaʿa/yajmaʿa = to collect)

اشتغل/يشتغل ishtaḡhala/yashtaḡhil = 'to occupy yourself' or 'to work' (شغل shuḡhl = occupation/work)

- Form X can mean to consider something to have an attribute. For example:

استحسن/يستحسن istaḥsana/yastaḥsin = 'to consider good', or 'admire' (حسن ḥasan = good) or to ask for something:

استعلم/يستعلم istaʿalama/yastaʿalim = 'to ask for information', or 'enquire' (علم ʿilm = knowledge)

Don't forget that the meaning patterns are for general guidance. Some derived verbs have no obvious connection with these patterns.

Activity 6

Fill in the missing entries in this table, as in the example:

Form	Present/future	Past	Meaning
VIII	يَقْتَرِبْ yaqtarib	اِقْتَرَبَ iqtaraba	to approach
X	يَسْتَمْتِعْ yastamtiʿ		to enjoy
VII		اِنْقَلَبَ inqalaba	to be overturned
	يَسْتَمِعْ yastamiʿ	اِسْتَمَعَ istamaʿa	to listen
	يَسْتَحْسِنْ yastaḥsin		to admire
		اِبْتَكَرَ ibtakara	to create
		اِسْتَخْدَمَ istakhdama	to use

Activity 7

Look at these example sentences:

They listened to the news on the radio.

استمعوا إلى الأخبار في الراديو.
istamaʿū ilā l-akhbār fī r-rādyū.

We use the internet in our office.

نستخدم شبكة الانترنت في مكتبنا.
nastkhdīm shabakat al-intarnat fī maktabnā.

The car approached the main street.

اقتربت السيارة من الشارع الرئيسي.
iqtaribat as-sayyāra min ash-shārīʿ ar-raʿīsī.

Did you enjoy the party?

هل استمتعت بالحفلة؟
hal istamtaʿta bil-ḥafla?

Now decide how you would say these in Arabic:

- 1 Do you (masc.) use the internet in your office?
- 2 They use the internet in their office.
- 3 The bus approached the main street.
- 4 We approached our house.
- 5 I listen to the news on the radio.
- 6 Did you (pl.) enjoy the film (الفيلم)?

Irregular verbs in derived forms

Weak and doubled verbs have varying features in the derived forms, depending on the particular root and form.

It is not possible to list all the variations here. However, there is some general guidance which will help you to recognise irregular verbs in the derived forms:

- Hollow and doubled verbs are regular in Forms II, III, V and VI. The weak middle root و wāw or ي yā' in hollow verbs does not change into a vowel and the second and third root letters of doubled verbs remain separate:

حاول/يُحاول ḥāwala/yuḥāwil (to try); Form III: root ḥ/w/l حاول

رَدَدَ/يُرَدِّدُ raddada/yuraddid (to repeat); Form II: root r/d/d ردد

يَتَنَاوَلُ/تَتَنَاوَلُ yatanāwal/tanāwal (to deal with); Form VI: root نول n/w/l

- Hollow and doubled verbs are irregular in Forms IV, VII, VIII and X. The irregularities are similar to the basic verb form, with hollow verbs replacing the second root letter with a long or short vowel and doubled verbs often combining the second and third root letters:

حَبِبَ/يُحِبُّ aḥabb/yuḥibb (to like); Form IV: root ḥ/b/b

رَوَّحَ/يَسْتَرِيحُ istarāḥa/yastarīḥ (to rest); Form X: root r/w/ḥ

- Defective verbs with و wāw or ي yā' as the final root letter are irregular in all the forms, ending in the characteristic long vowel: ī if the vowel preceding the third root letter in the regular pattern is kasra and ā if the vowel preceding it is fatha: شَرَى/يَشْتَرِي ishtarā/yashtarī (to buy); Form VIII: root sh/r/y شري عَطَى/يُعْطِي aʿṭā/yuʿṭī (to give); Form IV from root ʿ/t/y عطى

In summary

- Arabic features derived forms of the verb which modify the meaning of the root.
- There are eight derived forms in common use. They are produced by placing additional letters before and between the root letters.
- Forms II and III share characteristics, as do Forms V and VI, and Forms VII, VIII and X.
- An individual root will have particular derived forms in common circulation.

unit 18

Making verbs negative

Imperfect tense negative

The imperfect tense المضارع used for present and future statements is made negative by adding لا lā in front of the verb:

يَأْخُذُ (he takes) ya'khudh ← لَا يَأْخُذُ (he doesn't take) lā ya'khudh

نُسَافِرُ (we travel) nusāfir ← لَا نُسَافِرُ (we don't travel) lā nusāfir

أُحِبُّ (I like) uḥibb ← لَا أُحِبُّ (I don't like) lā uḥibb

I don't like ice-cream.

لَا أُحِبُّ الْآيسَ كَرِيمَ.
lā uḥibb al-ays krīm.

The cook doesn't prepare salad.

لَا يُجَهِّزُ الطَّبَاخُ السَّلَاطَةَ.
lā yajahhiz aṭ-ṭabākhkh as-salaṭa.

They don't live in tents.

لَا يَسْكُنُونَ فِي خِيَامَ.
lā yaskunūna fī khiyām.

Activity 1

Make these sentences negative, as in the example.

١ تأخذ فاطمة الأوتوبيس إلى المدرسة.

لَا تَأْخُذُ فَاطِمَةُ الْأُتُوبِيسَ إِلَى الْمَدْرَسَةِ.

٢ يغسل أحمد وجهه صباحاً.

٣ أتحدث العربية.

٤ تُسَخِّنُ الخبزَ في الفرن.

٥ يَجْلِسُ الأولادُ في الفصلِ ويَدْرُسُونَ اللغةَ العربيَّةَ.

٦ نَسْكُنُ في وَسَطِ المدينة.

Activity 2

Complete these sentences using the picture prompts, as in the example:

(I like cats but ...). ✓  أَحِبُّ القِطَطَ ولكنِّي ...

(I don't like dogs). ✗  لَا أَحِبُّ الكِلَابَ.

١ ✓  أَشْرَبُ قَهْوَةً ولكنِّي ...

٢ ✓  نُسَافِرُ بِالْمَرْكَبِ ولكنَّنَا ...

✗

٣ ABC ✓ تَدْرُسُ مَنَى الْإِنْجِلِيزِيَّةِ ولكنَّهَا ...

✗ أ ب ت

٤ ✓  يَسْتَمِيعُ يَوْسُفُ بِالْمَوْسِيقَى ولكنَّهُ ...

✗

٥ ✓  يَبِيعُونَ السَّيَّارَاتِ ولكنَّهُمْ ...

Past tense negative

The past tense الماضي can be made negative in two ways:

ما شَرِبْتُ: past verb + ما mā sharibtu (I didn't drink)

لَمْ أَشْرَبْ: present verb + لَمْ lam ashrab (I didn't drink)

لَمْ is more common in Modern Standard Arabic.

When the present verb follows لَمْ the parts of the verb ending in ن: (أَنْتُمْ, أَنْتِ, هُمْ) lose the final ن:

you (fem.) didn't drink = لَمْ تَشْرَبِي lam tashrabī they didn't go = لَمْ يَذْهَبُوا lam yadh-habū

you (pl.) didn't meet up = لَمْ تَتَقَابَلُوا lam tataqābalū

* The silent alif is a spelling convention and is not pronounced.

We didn't go to the party yesterday.

لم نذهب إلى الحفلة أمس.
lam nadh-hab ilā l-ḥafla ams.

The journey didn't last more than half an hour.

لم تستغرق الرحلة أكثر من نصف ساعة.
lam tastaghriq ar-riḥla akthar min niṣf sāʿa.

They travelled to the Red Sea, but they didn't listen to the weather forecast.

سافروا إلى البحر الأحمر ولكنهم لم يستمعوا إلى النشرة الجوية.
sāfarū ilā l-baḥr al-aḥmar wa-lākinnaḥum lam yastamiʿū ilā l-nashra al-jawwiyya.

Activity 3

Fill the gaps with the correct form of the past verb in brackets, as in the example:

- ١ في الأسبوع الماضي أنا ذَهَبْتُ (ذهب) إلى الحفلة ولكنني لم (قابل) صديقي هناك.
- ٢ أمس (ذهب) نورا إلى السوق ولكنّها لم (وجد) الصابون (soap).
- ٣ أنت لم (كتب) رسالة لأختك في أمريكا.
- ٤ في الصيف الماضي نحن (سافر) إلى اليابان (Japan) ولكنّا لم (استمتع) بالرحلة.
- ٥ السنة الماضية (اشترى) محمود سيارة جديدة ولكنّه لم (استخدم) السيارة فباعها.
- ٦ هم لم (يستمع) إلى أمهم و (يكسر) اللعبة (toy).

Activity 4

Read the story about what happened to Mr Abbas (الأستاذ عباس) on a journey last summer, and decide if these sentences are true or false.

- Mr Abbas likes travelling by boat.
- Last summer he went on a boat journey lasting two days.
- He wasn't well prepared for the journey.
- He booked a private cabin.
- He didn't bring any seasickness medicine.
- He listened to the weather forecast on the television.
- He told the ship's doctor he wants to see a picture of a boat.

لم يحجز قمرة خاصّة.

لم يستمع إلى النشرة الجوية في الراديو.

لم يُحضِر حبوب (pills) دوار البحر.

ولم يلبس قُبْعته في الشمس.

قال الأستاذ عباس لطبيب المركب «أنا لا أستمتع بالمراكب يا دكتور. أنا لا أريد أن أرى حتى صورة مركب في حياتي بعد اليوم.»

Activity 5

Now imagine you are Mr Abbas and retell the story. Start like this:

أحبّ أن أسافر بالطائرة ولكنني...

ليس 'not to be'

To make non-verbal sentences negative, there is a special verb ليس laysa, meaning 'not to be'. This unusual verb looks like the past tense, but has a present meaning:

- (أنا) لَسْتُ lastu (I am not)
 (أنت) لَسْتَ lasta (you m. are not)
 (أنت) لَسْتَ lasti (you f. are not)
 (هو/it is not) لَيْسَ laysa (هو)
 (هي/it is not) لَيْسَتْ laysat (هي)
 (نحن) لَسْنَا lasnā (we are not) (أنتم) لَسْتُمْ lastum (you pl. are not)
 (هم) لَيْسُوا laysū (they are not)

He isn't in the house. لَيْسَ فِي الْبَيْتِ laysa fī l-bayt.

I'm not Nadya. لَسْتُ نَادِيَةَ lastu nādiya.

She's not a nurse. لَيْسَتْ مُمَرِّضَةً laysat mumarriḍa.

In summary

- The negative of a present verb is formed by adding لا lā in front of the verb: أعرف ā'arif (I don't know).
- The negative of the past tense is formed by either:
 - adding ما mā in front of the past verb: ما كتبتُ mā katabtu (I didn't write), or
 - adding لم lam in front of a present verb: لم أكتب lam aktub (I didn't write) لم lam is more common in Modern Standard Arabic.
- There is a special verb ليس laysa, 'not to be', used to make non-verbal sentences negative.

Nouns and adjectives formed from verbs

By now you should be developing a feel for how root sequences are the foundation of Arabic, on which the richness of the language is built. You have seen these roots in action in the derived forms of the verb and the broken plurals. It is also possible to put the roots into other patterns to produce nouns and adjectives with associated meanings.

Nouns of place

Many nouns describing places where particular things happen are formed using the مَفْعَل mafa'al pattern:

مَصْنَع maṣnaʿ ('place of manufacture', i.e. factory), from the root صَنَعَ (manufacture/make)

مَكْتَب maktab ('place of writing', i.e. office/study), from the root كَتَبَ (write)

مَدْخَل madkhal ('place of entry', i.e. entrance), from the root دَخَلَ (enter)

In other words, by adding مَ ma before the first root letter and فَثَا (a) after the second root letter, a noun of place is created associated with the particular root sequence.

There are some minor variations possible in the pattern. Occasionally, the second vowel is a kasra (i) as in مَجْلِس majlis ('place of sitting', i.e. council), and sometimes the pattern ends in ة as in مَدْرَسَة madrasa ('place of study', i.e. school).

If the verbal noun comes directly before another noun, as in الماء شرب shurb al-mā', it will not have the article الـ al as this is an إضافة idāfa construction (see Unit 10).

As well as being used for general concepts such as 'going' and 'entry', verbal nouns are widely used in Arabic in place of a second verb. For example, 'I want to go to the museum' can be expressed in Arabic as 'I want that I go to the museum' using أن (that), or a verbal noun can be used in place of the second verb:

أريد الذهاب إلى المتحف. urīd adh-dhahāb ilā l-mathaf.

Likewise,

Bashir likes to play tennis. يُحِبُّ بِشِيرُ لَعِبَ التَّنِيسِ.
yuḥibb bashīr la'ib at-tanis.

I went to the hospital to visit my uncle. ذهبتُ إلى المُسْتَشْفَى لزيارة خالي.
dhahbtu ilā l-mustashfā li-ziyārat khālī.

Activity 2

Rephrase these sentences using a verbal noun from the table on page 125, as in the example.

١ نريد أن نرور المتحف. نريد زيارة المتحف.

٢ نريد أن نذهب إلى البنك.

٣ أريد أن أكتب رسالة (message) لأمي.

٤ أحب أن أخرج من البيت.

٥ تحب نادبة أن تلعب مع أصحابها.

٦ يحب علينا أن نعود إلى المكتب.

Verbal nouns: derived forms

Unlike basic verbs, the patterns for verbal nouns from the derived forms are predictable, with only Form III having an alternative. This table shows you the verbal nouns for the different forms. Some of the examples may already be familiar and these can help you to remember the patterns.

Example	Verbal noun	Verb	Form preparation تجهيز	تفعيل tafīl	فَعَّلَ/يُفَعِّلُ	II dispute خلاف	فعال fiʿāl	فَاعَلَ/يُفَاعِلُ	III conversation مُحَادَاثَة	مُفَاعَلَة	مُفَاعَلَة	or information إعلام	إفعال ifʿāl	أَفْعَلَ/يُفْعِلُ	IV
progression تَقَدُّم	تَفْعُّل	تَفَعَّلَ/يَتَفَعَّلُ	V cooperation تعاون	تفاعل tafāʿul	تَفَاعَلَ/يَتَفَاعَلُ	VI withdrawal انسحاب	إنفعال infiʿāl	إِنْفَعَلَ/يَنْفَعِلُ	VII meeting اجتماع	إفتعال iftiʿāl	إِفْتَعَلَ/يِفْتَعِلُ	VIII
use/usage استخدام	إستفعال istifʿāl	إِسْتَفْعَلَ/يَسْتَفْعِلُ	X

Verbal nouns from the derived forms tend to form their plurals using the sound feminine plural ات (-āt):

meetings اجتماعات ijtimāʿāt preparations تجهيزات tajhīzāt

Passive participles are formed using the pattern مَفْعُول maf'ūl:

- كَسْرَ/يَكْسِرُ ← مكسور maksūr (something) broken شَرَبَ/يَشْرَبُ ← مشروب mashrūb (something) drunk
 غَسَلَ/يَغْسِلُ ← مغسول maghsūl (something) washed

These participles can be used as either nouns or adjectives, for example مكسور maksūr can mean 'broken' or 'a broken item'.

In the derived forms, active and passive participles are formed by taking the imperfect verb and:

- replacing the initial يَ yu- or يَ ya- with مُ mu-
- using a final kasra (i) for the active participle and a final fatha (a) for the passive participle

- يُدْرِبُ yudarrib ← مُدَرِّب mudarrib trainer
 مُدَرَّب mudarrab (person) trained يُشَاهِدُ yushāhid ← مُشَاهِد mushāhid viewer مُشَاهَد mushāhad (item) viewed يَتِمَكَّنُ yatamakkan ← مُتَمَكِّن mutamakkin capable (person)
 مُتَمَكَّن mutamakkan (item) enabled يُسْتَخْدِمُ yastakhdim ← مُسْتَخْدِم mustakhdim user مُسْتَخْدَم mustakhdam (item) used

Activity 5

اختفى اللاعب المشهور ميمو سلطان تماماً!
 The famous football player Mimo Sultan has completely disappeared!

What is happening tomorrow?

What do his coach and his friend think of Mimo?

«أيها السادة المشاهدون...
 جئنا خبر عاجل. ميمو سلطان، اللاعب
 المشهور في نادي المنصور اختفى تماماً قبل
 كأس العالم غداً.»

«ميمو ولد مُتَهَوِّر. غير معقول أن يكون هناك
 لاعب مُخْتَفِي من النادي قبل كأس العالم بيوم
 واحد! غير مفهوم! غير مقبول!»

«ميمو أخي وصديقي، وهو مظلوم. ميمو لاعب
 كبير ومتمكن لكن المدرب ظلمه.»

«يا ترى... هل يعود ميمو سلطان في الوقت المناسب؟»

Match these Arabic words in the broadcast to their English meanings, as in the example.

- | | |
|----------------|-------------------|
| ١ مُشَاهِدُونَ | a) World Cup |
| ٢ عاجل | b) capable |
| ٣ كأس العالم | c) understandable |
| ٤ مُتَهَوِّر | d) disappearing |
| ٥ مَعْقُول | e) wayward |
| ٦ مُخْتَفِي | f) reasonable |
| ٧ مَفْهُوم | g) viewers |
| ٨ مَظْلُوم | h) I wonder |
| ٩ مُتَمَكِّن | i) urgent |
| ١٠ يا ترى | j) wronged |

unit 20

Dual verbs

In summary

- Different nouns and adjectives can be formed from verbal roots.
- Nouns of place use the pattern مَفْعَل maf'āl.
- Verbal nouns vary for basic verbs but follow predictable patterns for the derived forms.
- Active and passive participles describe the doer and the receiver of an action.
- For basic verbs active participles are formed using the pattern فَاعِل fā'il and passive participles using the pattern مَفْعُول maf'ūl.
- Active participles and passive participles for the derived forms both begin with مُ mu-. The active ends with kasra, e.g. مُسْتَحْدِم mustakhdim (user), and the passive with fatha: مُسْتَحْدَم mustakhdam (used).

You have already seen in Unit 13 how Arabic has a dual ending ān or ayn which is added to nouns when referring to two of something. There are also special verb endings for 'they' and 'you' when the subject is dual.

ān is added to the imperfect verbs:

he travels يُسَافِر yusāfir →

they two travel يُسَافِرَان yusāfirān

you cooperate يَتَعَاوَن yata'āwan →

you two cooperate يَتَعَاوَنَان yata'āwanān

In the past, the dual ending is ā:

he attended حَضَرَ ḥaḍara → they two attended حَضَرَا ḥaḍarā

you drank شَرِبْتَ sharibta → you two drank شَرِبْتُمَا sharibtumā

The dual verb is relatively uncommon but you should at least be able to recognise it when you come across it. In English, it is often translated using the word 'both':

They both live in Cairo.

هُمَا يَسْكُنَانِ فِي الْقَاهِرَةِ.
humā yaskunān fī l-qāhira.

What did you both do yesterday?

مَاذَا فَعَلْتُمَا أَمْسَ؟ mādhā fa'altumā ams?

As with plural verbs (see Unit 14), if the verb comes before the dual subject, it will be in the singular:

حَضَرَ الوَظَرَانِ الِاجْتِمَاعَ وَتَعَاوَنَا فِي الْخَطَّةِ.

ḥaḍara al-wazīrān al-ijtimāʿ wa-taʿāwanā fī l-khiṭṭa.

The two ministers attended the meeting and cooperated on the plan.

Activity 1

Rewrite these sentences in the dual, as in the example.

١ متى تذهب إلى المدرسة؟ متى تذهبان إلى المدرسة؟

٢ هل تسكن في الكويت؟

٣ جلس الرجل وشرب فنجان قهوة.

٤ هو مدرس ويعمل في باريس.

٥ إلى أين سافرت الصيف الماضي؟

٦ يُجهز الطباخ الأكل ويُنظف الأطباق.

In summary

- Arabic verbs have a dual form used with two subjects.
- In the imperfect tense, dual verbs end in ان -ān, e.g. تُسافران yusāfirān (they two travel), تسافران tusāfirān (you two travel).
- In the past tense, dual verbs end in ا -ā, e.g. سافرا sāfarā (they two travelled), سافرتما sāfartumā (you two travelled).
